

It Doesn't Have To Be Like That

BY JOSEPH F. NALLY

Almond Eyes, Baby Face

Trip

A Manifesto About Stalking Patrick Hyland

Queer Culture: A Transgressive Tradition

Ludism: Board Games That Will Get You High

Sixty Second Wipeout Vol. 1

It Doesn't Have To Be Like That

by

Francis Forever

All Rights Reserved.

Choam Charity Publishing #008
South San Francisco, California, CA USA

Copyright © 2021 Francis Forever

All Rights Reserved.

No part of this book may be reproduced and utilized, by any means, without the permission of the author except for literary reviews.

This is a work of fiction. Names, characters, businesses, places, events, and incidents are either the products of the author's imagination or used in a fictions manner. Any resemblance to actual persons, living or dead, or actual events is purely coincidental. The opinions are his own and has no affiliations with named associates.

ISBN: 978-0-9989203-7-5

First Edition, September 2021.

Email:
dogmasterjay@gmail.com

choamcharity.bandcamp.com
www.pilleater.com
<https://linktr.ee/pilleater>
www.youtube.com/pilleater

PRAISE FOR FRANCIS FOREVER

“perhaps I’m a ‘normie’ then, because it is certainly not good enough for me.”

- Adam Parfrey.

“lolol asian pill. idk man shit is crazy in general right now.
wild times.”

- Sam Hyde.

“The alt-right is atrocious and the fact that you’re giving those morons oxygen is more than enough to dissuade me from appearing on your show.”

- Chris Korda.

“You are a persona non grata.”

-Greg Johnson, gay white nationalist.

“The leading Asian-Aryan Alt-Right intellectual of his generation.”

- Luke Ford.

“xoxo” - Jamie Stewart of Xiu Xiu

"I wish you well in what will undoubtedly be an extended grieving process as a scorned fan."

- Jim Goad.

"You might be a better comedian than I am. But sometimes you don't get it when I make a joke or not, shm."

- Saya Song.

"Well, I like that it is good, clean writing, no literary pretension. Your own original manifesto on Asian girls, a subject I know little about. It would be too much work for me to critique, something I never like to do. For all I know, you could have a hit on your hands."

- Josh Alan Friedman.

"I am at the mall." -Brandon Adamson.

"Feed the Korean, Korean please."

-Meaghan Dunn.

"I want those same super powers you have."

-George Clanton

"I love Gamebooks! I'll let you know when I'm open for commissions!"

-Michelle Lam

“...Mais je ne suis qu'un déconneur.”

-Emil M. Cioran

It Doesn't Have To Be Like That

AxA

...Asian Aryanism is on the rise.
It took about a decade, but we are finally seeing results.

✕

I am queer.

✕

AxA is punk, more than anything else. Eurasianism is for normies. AxA is forever.

✕

How about we destroy the white race and be hated. A true AxA subculture where everyone, all sides, left and right, hates us. Imagine that future, John Lennon.

✕

Think, the white race is Eurasian.

✕

And people who are white advocates will just be Eurasianist. "I'm white," said the halfie. Jennifer Suzuki in her book "Confessions of a Submissive East Asian Woman" wrote about this problem.

I just say "fine, I'm gay." It's a way to win arguments.

Millennial Woes talks big game of "manning up." Realize, however, white women haven't changed their behavior. And this isn't an act of paternalism like a teacher scolding you. As if he's pursuing them anytime soon... He's a homonut!

If we know the al-right is dead, sadly, those who hang to nostalgic Hollywood nazism will bite the dust soon too.

Counter-Currents is just a Gen-Xer hang out, where they remember classical Nazi subcultures. Their brand of ""white nationalism" is a separate scene from the far right, any race realism, natsoc, or anything reactionary. It's kind of an autistic, shameless self branding.

In addition, Greg Johnson's long winded argument to stay anonymous is very concerning. As if pizzagate and criminal activities should NOT be questioned!

I am a sexual-racist, by definition.

Remember, capitalism crashed in 2008 because the zeitgeist assumed everyone is entitled to buying a house, which no one could afford anyway, and became a slave for it. Fuck the middle-class.

Rent is becoming the defacto normal way of living. While paying off for a house is something rich people do. Or that a rent cost for a house has no benefits whatsoever after it's paid off in a decade or so. Life is short, and people are dying before the age of 50.

Fuck white people, fuck the middle-class, and fuck whiteness. A raceplay porno where white people know their place in the multicultural world would be liberating.

As if we consent to our hellish slavery. And the boomer, middle class culture of whiteness thinks this is the normal circle of life, to enjoy a consensual slavery.

Nothing is wrong with work, the problem is there is no "work" (opportunity) for anyone. And not one single paycheck. Value is a worthless concept.

I am becoming a legit national socialist everyday.

David Graeber writes about how worthless work is in "Bullshit Jobs." Capitalism will deliberately make up fake positions. But atlas, Graeber is just an academic version of Bob Black. Fuck democratic-socialism and fuck extreme individualism.

It's easy to assume people are flawed, until you realize there is such a thing called ethics and doing the right thing. Things can be fixed.

It's ok to hate your job, your and family. Hating oneself is shame, existing without consent. Hate can be justified. Hostility is an answer.

AxA

✕

I think about the last decade. I was in the wrong place at the wrong time. And I wish I was a healthy normie. The artsy benefits of having my own destiny. And with a big titty Indian girlfriend of course! She has to be on Twitter.

✕

Al Stankard wanted to create a workshop in Phoenix, "Overcoming My Sexual Racism." Five speakers, dinner, and the Sunday conclusion. Leftoid semantics, but it's a trick. I can imagine my speech, "We Have To Kill Whiteness and White People, in Order to Save The Future of White Racial Nationalism."

✕

I am "Jewish." Just not liberal or annoying.

✕

RuruSama9, Kirby, Ruru Sama, whatever your name is... You can piss in my mouth.

Pretty much you have to get through her lies and doubts, and the man leads 100 percent. Often, she does not know what she really wants.

"Synthetic Landscaping." "Patalliro!" My favorite joys.

"Dreamworld" by Alex Von Goldstein is a new age psychonaut belief about being a white nationalist, communist, esoteric christian, DPRK supporter, all in this radical intersection belief after alt-right. But no gay leftist shit. It's Tim Morton plus P.Dick. Plus all this porn he watches with Rai Blue in it and Aphex Twin.

The only reason why we connect is because we are in this esoteric art school mixing natsoc/anticaps subculture silliness all while trying to overcome post alt-right idiocracy and shitty decadent leftist. Fuck wignats. Fuck racist pigs. We love to talk pomo and crit theory because it's the way to penetrate the elite and the creative arts. But no metapolitical culture war either. That's Gen-X pomo talk.

You have to seriously look at how Asian American girls are all becoming punk rock wannabe porn stars. It's an identity politic. ...May I accelerate that? Nothing personal.

The issue at hand is that women, especially in the west, don't know what is good for them, and need "divine" paternal intervention to say "date and be with that white guy, stop making up a cartoon character of yourself on Instagram, and continuing to objectify yourself like you belong to some artsy queer subculture." It's all a front to hide the insecurities, and wishing for a prince charming to save them. But the reality is that the media, and clever role models, morph their self image, which our capitalist society loves these things, because you become an objectified product. I am a true, classical feminist. Dworkin was right.

We are under an illusion. That love is like a commodity we have to "get right" to fit our niche bizarre interest under consumer capitalism. What is trending, what is not, the cultural zeitgeist, etc. My argument has been that these soyboy whites pursued Asian girls out for a consumer subculture based on anime and video games, not realizing it created an accidental AxA culture and Eurasian Futurism in process. Here I am. The coming of a great Incel to end it all.

A great example why "white" culture does not work is the Columbine massacre. Think of any Gen-X, "Breakfast Club" romcom about "jocks vs goths." This is a division based on consumer culture, individualism, and something only admixture European people believe in. An "isolated universalism" for all the non-collective students. It ends with a bang.

Individuals will get cuckolded/defranchized over a competitive game of poker. Universalism, Egalitarianism, Individualism, Democracy, all byproducts of the Modernist empire, and something all deracinated "white" people believe in. Thank you Durkheim!

What is enforced on us, however, is having NO belief of anything greater than US, and that WE are god! Strange, isn't it?

Why Christianity is so important, is that a Jew, named Jesus Christ, said "we are ALL Gods children, but NOT God. Everyone deserves to be apart of Gods plan, not by blood or by selfish code!" In a way, Christianity broke away from old-world of Jewish thought, and dived into forgiveness and the human soul. This is the center OF the western arts and philosophy.

Jewish girls are hot and just want to be left alone, all while looking for those non-Jews that will benefit all of Judaism. That's true, and it is not going away. But are Jews evil and hostile like some kind of mean, demonic force? No. They just need to be called out and critically examined when they do something wrong, just like any other power structure.

As one protester in Philadelphia once said, "This is not about George Floyd! This is about hate! ...Niggers come in every color!" Now was he wrong?

The sweet, sweet sound of verbal abuse, running through my mind.

Either you criticize Jews and get blackballed from the arts, or you criticize Islam and you get a Fatwa death threat on you. But for Christians? As Nietzsche said, the true weakness of Western man is his passive humility. He needs some kind of paternal force in order to guide. Otherwise, you are a passive transhumanist moron.

White people... entitled egalitarian, commodified "intellectualism and liberalism as a subculture." All for normies. Modernism is cancer. Liberalism is death.

There is no such thing as white people. It's not "admixture European people," nor is it German, Irish, French, whatever. It literally means a deracinated of middle-class values originating from said groups, but ironically not those groups. Susan Sontag was right about one thing. The white race is a cancer to the human race.

Thought Slime is neoliberal centrist, all while pretending to be anti-capitalist or some pomo anarchist. It's not edgy at all. But Contrapoints? ...It would be interesting to have sex.

It's all about wokeism slash "pretending to be Marxist," but now it's rather "imagine a BLM future always hating whitey plus free UBI for everyone."

Asian girls who say, "I like Xiu Xiu" really mean to say "I just want a normal white boyfriend who isn't into Xiu Xiu."

Eugene Thacker loves to be a Stan for Power Electronics self-harm, but I'm sure he gets pussy every other week.

Eminem is one my idols.

Antifa girls don't want to hear about Antifa theory or culture. They want to hear "let's go get some chocolate pizza at Union Square together!"

Thought Slime has good arguments about poor working conditions, but everything else is horrible. He literally believes that Naziism is some kind of satanism plus a virus you catch. Thanks Foucault!

Wolf OS X. An annoying Canadian who tries to say his muzak is something greater.

I am a communist. ...I mean it.

True communism is beyond what neoliberal capitalism tells us or the latest in postmodernity. Communism is about smashing modernity.

The hottest place in hell is where neoliberal capitalist centrists pretend they are anything but that.

Atari Teenage Riot. The greatest AxA act of all time.

My good friend Daryl Basarab, leader of Gangster Bolshevism, had one of the best introductions ever. It went something like, "hey all daryl basarab here, i am sick of looking for a fucking job, fucking jews and minorities run the world. I as daryl basarab can proudly say fuck employers and fuck any future employers, i would likely steal from them as i hate this stupid capitalist world. hail adolf hitler, let's make his dream come true."

And another introduction went something like, "Daryl Basarab of Pennsylvania, a known Nazi and genocidal maniac, has been speaking of his serial killer fantasy on Stumble Inn forum as handle HurriKANE. Daryl Basarab hopes one day to emulate his idols which include Pol Pot, Ted Bundy, Adolf Hitler, and Josef Stalin. Daryl Basarab also wishes to do harm to any employer who employs him as he hates the capitalist system. He consistently talks of his love of Satan, and how hates Christians with a passion. Daryl Basarab is considered armed and dangerous, please proceed with caution when dealing with him."

I heard Jamie Stewart likes Peter Sotos, Yukio Mishima and Iceberg Slim. But totally not that icky stuff Boyd Rice ever produced!!

Oneohtrix Point Never is dumb and apart of the problem. And Yung lean is fucking garbage too. ...His gay ass warlord song.

Imagine making CalArts better. A Mike Perry Perversion. Infinity Train but it's my life.

I'm sick of all Guggenheim boomers and their children. Rockefeller CIA plants to excuse capitalism and neoliberalism.

Sadly, "labour is the source of all value" is mistranslated as "ART is the source of all value." False. Work is not art, nor is art is work. Pomos and Conceptualist succeeded in changing the definition in art.

I don't think working the night shift at Home Depot is an art. Nor is producing any materialistic thing. That's work. So when someone says "everything is art," just remember this is some kind of insidious propaganda.

...Or for that matter, it's the elite class redefining "value" and undermining the economy, that their value is socially constructed, decentralized, and projected onto their oppressed subjects. It's not about art or aesthetics, even if you tried to pry into their conceptualized lawyers. I don't think the elite see it something as art. They see it all as profit, and social control, to push American values and globalism.

The elite want all of us in our own isolated worlds, subcultures, and LARPs. The system advocates these things with this "social media" ideology, conditioning us that we too can chase the American Dream, get rich, win at capitalism, by being stay-at-home nerdy YouTubers.

In turns out those who do become a celebrity overnight, they develop narcissist personality disorder, extreme arrogance and egotism, a perverted sense of chasing higher class women, and often boasting big about themselves. Even if the million subscribers they have comes from computer tech reviews.

Both capitalism and commuting to work has failed us too. The elites are forcing us into new markets that make them profit, and not for the value of society. STEM degrees will become worthless around 2026.

YouTube ideology, or internet niche celebrity thinking, is distorting human civilians. You have disgusting people like Sam Hyde and Nick Fuentes rule over us. Because "we desire their products." As if to make everyone happy, is to label EVERYONE as a "cult" punk rock celebrity. Just think about all those no-named artists that appear in art galleries.

AxA

"The new normal" is an artistic egotism and celebrity narcissism distributed for every normie. Very similar to the boomers on a trust fund in the 1950s.

Make a video on TikTok: 1000 views in 24 hours. A video now, in 2021, on YouTube: 100-200 views. Technology moves on. Each isolated website relates to its own generation.

Asian-influenced breakcore and digital hardcore IS a subculture. This is apart of the AxA movement, and I belong inside of it, Merzbow is cool too.

She's looking for "fun" where it can lead her towards a better life. I can tell she wants a $350,000 dollar house.

The key is, there is no rules among people. Men are leaders, creators, persuaders, and masters of rhetoric.

Women are biologically dependent and do not know what they want for themselves. Be natural.

Raceplay is healthy. It will cure racism.

Platonism is real and beautiful. Do I have to explain myself why? This is the crux of every affluent romantic comedy.

Don't be afraid to be openly Asiansexual. You can also have sex with men too.

Instagram, hookers, or punk girls have "mimetic desire" that is trying to get with the Chad men they want to be with. They try to talk like Chad or act like him, because that must mean Chad desires that type of gal. In addition, sex talk actually leads to sex, and both parties get aroused. The reason why this is disturbing us is because she's "ok" being used as an object or toilet seat for rape. Men are happily ok to rape them and dispose of them when they are done without any call of rape on their part. Because "it was consent." Of course, men don't want to be cucked or hear about how another dude is better than them. They just want to be better than the rest and conquer her.

A true feminist would side with the incel or “nice white guy.”

Girls like porn gigs because it makes them feel desired and powerful.

I love The Linda Lindas. Imagine getting bullied by them or even gang raped by a bunch of hotties. I am that racist, sexist boy they desire. I am here for them. This is my goal in life.

I am strapped in a guillotine. The Linda Lindas publicly shame me in front of an audience. Verbally abuse me. Spit on me. She rubs her ass in my face. Piss on me. And then, with a fake dick, gag me. Heaven on Earth.

Hypocrisy is everywhere. To the car salesmen, and to the male feminist who plays PUA. My anger is against those who continue to shame me for my interest.

Bastards United. "Fuck you and your head pollution!!"

I am a white nigger. I am oppressed.

Eurasianism, the admixture of white Americans and Asian Americans, will create a new subculture, people and political paradigm that will surpass "whiteness" and thus resurrect a left nationalism that will destroy neoliberal capitalism while embracing a cyberpunk future in sympathy with traditional living without middle-class values. The cause of Eurasianism was from a large portion of White-Male-Asian-Female (WMAF) and Asian-Male-White-Female (AMWF) reproduction under the influence of cosmopolitan desires and assimilation to a new bi-racial identity influenced from anime and video games.

Dennis Dale once said that we belong to "The Postmodern Right," whatever that means. Are we just communist then?

"AxA" is short for Asian Aesthetics, taking cue from straight edge culture, hardcore punk, and power electronics. This is a youth movement, ages 18-29, that seek agitation and destruction in spaces of liberal influences that deny their Eurasian identity. "AxA" is also written as a graffiti mark to disturb both the liberal and normative public, warning of this "Asian Alliance" future they so deny. Eurasian Futurism is oppressed by a neoliberal leftist culture, and of extreme race denying individualism. It is true anyone who questions the narrative is called a "nazi," a genocidal hateful person that wants to promote suburban nationalism. Instead, AxA advocates anti-liberal anti-capitalism, which includes the destruction of leftoid thought and subculture.

Subculture is apart of the problem, and a war of subcultures accelerate the decline. A leftoid/Antifa-minded subculture is for those into hardcore punk, white girls, and feel-good white boy liberalism. Like a true transgressive and hated individual, AxA embraces the "incel" nature of a "nazi fascist genocidal murderer," whatever haunts them at night so they can post it on Twitter. Postmodernity has celebrated irony to a point where sincerity is evil. Therefore, nothing can be ruled out as sincere. I don't want to go out to parties, and I want to be hated by the thing I hate the most: white people. This is a straight-edge movement.

"The Dirtbag Left." Or should we say, "Neoliberal Fed."

"The Dirtbag Right" was that joke of a show called The Daily Shoah. Add postmodernity popularity to anything, you cease the vanguard and turn it into a hipster rooftop party.

The current art world is ruled by a "transgressive liberal elite" that is invested in "queer culture," a non-normative and eccentric intellectual elite class that rules over all aspects of American and neoliberal life. The goal for them is to create a transhumanist Americanism based in cyberspace and beyond, erasing all organic lifeforms and histories. This is due to The Postmodern Condition and the sweeping nihilism brought by the West. So as long you have white people and whiteness, you will have transhumanism and a transgressive liberal elite.

I argue that the clandestine nature of white nationalism, communism, and any reactionary anti-liberal force all belong to the "queer culture" canon, even if it is "fascist," to use their ironic semantics. People are invested in subculture and not the action that takes place. Subculture and the internet is a byproduct of capitalism. Praxis is meaningless unless capitalism and our power dynamic of being a consenting consumer is called out and destroyed. Queer culture has zero tolerance for those who oppose them, but they will tolerate those who are non-normative and hated, like AxA. Thus it will create an obvious paradox, and the AxA youth subculture will be by default, a queer culture, invading the minds of the neoliberal ones and proselytizing them to anti-liberalism and anti-global forces of Eurasian Futurism.

Subculture in itself is a toxic disease, a mental disorder, foisted upon young people who won't grow into adults, and rather would like to consume the world until they die. AxA is this accelerating drive towards truth. A neglected scene that appeared in the 1980s, came back with a bang in the 90s, and now at its boiling point. AxA is advocated by privileged white boys and edgy Asian girlfriends, so it makes everything even more problematic.

Therefor, there must be a queer alliance that respects the AxA movement and all anticapitalist forces and art movements, destroying both left and right-wing semantics, while creating a safe environment for radicals and anti-liberal race realists. An organic and healthy progressive world without neoliberal capitalism for all parties. Liberalism is the cancer of the human race. We must kill "white" people.

The only good future is when China rules over the West and all future capitalist transactions. Both Korea and Japan will rule over pop culture and continue to fight for dominance. White people will have no future unless they recreate themselves in the image of The Eurasian, anime-realist man, or fight for a crass white nationalism without capitalism. The correct way is a synergy between the nationalist and Chinese superstructure. Future Leftism will be about making anime real, while Future Rightism will be about Eurasian eugenics and tradition. Ironic, yes? In a better society, all semantics will be erased and be under a post-postmodern confusion, and what is left, is Anime-Realism. This will benefit all parties who hate living in America. This is about making the arts better, tastier towards the Eurasian.

I will attack back if someone confronts me. A negative approach is not wanted, nor will I tolerate the sickness of individualism. I am a romantic at heart, and only want a future based upon intimate platonism. A romcom where I star in, with my fellow union of egoists who will all benefit. A paternal system will fix the gay wound inside of us for all.

They laugh. They think I'm a joke. I rebuke back, "But I am but a Joker!"

I say, "I am here to kidnap you, away from society, and into the underground. Welcome home!"

The "pilleater" username has nothing to do with the PUA/ MGTOW/MRA scene or The Matrix type of stuff. I registered the name on April 5th, 2009. I named this original alt-account after a well known YTMND troll called "inkdrinker." All I had to do was to invert "ink" with "pill" and "drinker" with "eater." By taking a closer look, the name is actually an avant-garde logo. There is no "pills" and I am not "eating" anything.

Google search, or look up, "Crossed Swords Font."

"The Crossed Swords" mean AxA. A graffiti logo that incites fear into those who doubt me as an artist. When you see the Crossed Swords, it's time to fuck shit up.

Everyone likes the same thing I like when they see a pair of Crossed Swords. I don't have to explain myself.

Spray paint Crossed Swords along with AxA. No one is going to fuck around with this neighborhood!

AxA

Bushwick, Brooklyn. I feel your energy. I love you like no other neighborhood.

Gentrification sucks. Middle class values come in and destroys the people. I'm here now, so they can have a protest the next day when they see a hate symbol like The Crossed Swords in the back of a bathroom at a lesbian bar. ...I'm aware graffiti is for white people. Let it be.

Moodring is the club where the AxA action happens. An Asian-fusion bar with a beautiful dance floor. Let me take you there.

Give it up. That BA in the liberal arts. All the junk you were brainwashed with. The middle class values of uptight modernism. Let it go. Relearn. Come with me. See a whole new world outside the 80k spent.

All that bullshit Facebook pseudo-intellectualism has to go. Bye Kashif Vikaas. It was nice knowing you. Brett Cooper, go fuck yourself. Alex Gendler, good luck with your love life. I wish you the best J.G. Michael. Now we got Alexander von Marstall and Lukas Eidolon trying to be “metamodern” about this in a far-right way. First, get rid of the anti-semitism found in your chat. Everyone has a nazi problem these days. I don’t feel like beating up nazis anymore. But if I have too, I will.

The only way of respecting race and abolishing capitalism, is first by getting get of nazism all together.

I am an incel with rage.

I AM an incel with rage. We must kill nazis and advocate race-realism.

Fascism IS NOT capitalism you klutz. Fascism at least tried to help the common people. Capitalism sells them out with wishes of a better future. A true Fascist government would abolish capitalism altogether. I guess we never really had “true Fascism” then. ...We will.

And when I say “fascism” I actually mean communism. What they never told you is that fascism is communism.

“No genocidal mean people,” the neoliberal likes to quarrel about. Sure. Reduce it down to the Libidinal Economy.

Because I am Jewish, I must fight for universal justice. This is not universalism, but an urge to do good, with the paternal attitude I can give for a dying society. Wake up. It's time for a new golden age.

The real anti-semites are those who advocate capitalism. They are the ones that continue to make white people evil. White people are evil, but they need redemption. They need white nationalism in order to become good. Black men must make gay pornography as power bottoms with white nationalists in order to heal the race relationship between whites and blacks in America.

Jewish women naturally find white men attractive, but cannot attain this forbidden love. If white men become communists, they can attract Jewish women, opening the door for a greater political movement, that is, the second coming of spiritual Fascism. The true communist society. Jewish women finds raceplay arousing becomes it shows how smart white men can be, breaking the neoliberal pattern of total ignorance.

Jewish girls are hot. Especially ones with brown hair and big butts. Highly intelligent. If you want a Jewish girl, be yourself, and plan to break the system. They will see how smart you are.

White men will deny the Holocaust. The Jewish girl will try and stir him towards Netflix and Chill instead. She will put on Chicken Run and make cute commentary why The Holocaust should be taught in elementary. The white man should get her pregnant. The government will pay child support. Believe in yourself.

This same scenario will happen over and over again. This is a metaphor about the rising Eurasian elite, who have platonic families. White people have become second class Jews because of the Asian woman.

Exploited Black Teens.com is the best White Man on Black Woman porn out there. It will heal race relations.

Memes are bad. The system wants us plugged in to a fictional reality and make it normal.

The problem is, liberalism creates toxic people and culture. Lots of lies and whiteness. It's a status quo thing. "I can only live in NYC if I say this." It's not based in reality or on any truth.

AxA

Everything is Asian-Aryan. We are living in a fascist future.

Imagine living in Brooklyn and you think "the gift economy" will solve all your issues related to being a leftist and not having kids.

Sexuality cannot be contained, nor should it be rejected or shamed.

I love Diogenes. Plato is for modernists.

We are now "accepting" all variants of sexual preference as identity politics and subculture. This is not a bad thing, and will ultimately leads to some greater nationalism around it. ...But in all honesty, no one likes "MAPs" or Pedos. I understand their struggles and subcultural interest. The same about so called Zoos. Ask, why do they have these desires? Can it be focused more upon platonism than objectification? Roots with other humans? Having sex with children or animals is unethical and wrong.

It is abuse, and a crime against the innocent. It is on the same lines of sex as a transaction, a masturbation pleasure and objectification.

Women who are bitter, either hate themselves, or in rare situations, flirting. I am an advocate of women at the work place falling for their co-workers. Why? Because it's not normal for men and women to "work" in close proximity. Women are there as objects for the men. To break out of this, women should rape male co-workers, not the other way around. If your woman is a boss, and is both mean and nice to you... get with her ASAP!

Men need to take back teaching jobs and the libraries. Pink-collar work is about oppression.

They say a hook-up or a "down-to-fuck" attitude can save a relationship, manipulating a woman to stay with you. But this is just mind games, and justifying rape. Men are stronger than that, and what PUA is now seeing, is that DFT-ASAP is wrong.

Older woman at least know what young men want. And often older women are like, "are you sure you want to date and be with someone who is two decades older than you? lol!" And the truth is, they want you to say "yes."

Older women from 42-60 are great to be with, because we finally fulfill our desire to be men, and to be with actual older women who taught us in school and cared for us as we grew. A oedipus complex for sure!

I got with an older woman after the Nitzer Ebb show. It was beautiful. We went out for a month.

It is normal to question Jewish behavior and power structures, like any other religion. It's not normal to make it the center of ones cause and life mission, and assume there is only one problem and answer.

If there was a gay gene, one must account for racial genes. There would be such a thing called the gay race.

Mark Fisher is basically a neoliberal fed trying to get sincere Marxists over to pomo neoliberalism (as ironic as that sounds). That's it. Give a touch of the pretentious David Foster Wallace, gear it towards millennials who took a biased and radical philosophy 101 class, and you have a pomo writer of "visual culture" that regurgitates Fukuyama's theories to those who enjoy Red Scare and The Micheal Brooks Show. Acid Communism is nothing more than a confused pomo subculture without context (but it's in the communist and left canon, you see). It is a G-rated, kids friendly ideology to those who won't drift too far away from the literature degree. Fisher only believes in one reality, the left one. He is intolerant towards anything outside of it or downplays the left as actually being radical as the alt-right. In addition, he's a tool for young people, so they will read Derrida and Spinoza in PC terms. Other academic writers, like Eugene Thacker and Timothy Morton, also reek of over-read and over assumed logic towards a neoliberal future. I would even go as far to argue that Fischer stole acid communism from Al Stankard's "acid right" that was around during 2013 to 2017. Again, a pure example of intellectual theft and cultural appropriation.

But there's the irony! Just embrace the neolib one and go to Hot Topic that sells commie logos. Is that NOT neolib capitalism? Like, "the alt right did not happen, but that same race realist and dirtbag energy found in it is ok in the context of a left one." Now we have breadtube and all that gay shit.

Dirtbag Left is a shill operation for people to think in PC terms, but ok to talk race or be an antilib once in awhile. Again, Fischer won't even believe in a bright future, or for that matter, sincerity. It's like he read Land and just said it should all be academic approved leftist thinking. Fisher argues, for no reason, that a "left" term is good because that's what academia wants and is important to morality. And then he abuses the terms and pretends the legitimate history of the alt right was always "alt left."

Tim Morton: "I read this already biased work that was debunked, but I'm going to pretend it wasn't, and cite it to show I read it and fully understand the text in my way.

That's why I have a comparative literature PhD." Same thing Fisher does!

Bazooka Joe Bubblegum wrappers as wisdom from Plato.
...Dom DeLillo wasn't lying about that!

Why not read about acid use in philosophy? Why mix in communism? "Acid Communism?" At this point, everything must be some form of soft neoliberalism. "Mother may I" nationalism and government approved boutique ideologies.

Atic Atac by Rare is my favorite ZX Spectrum Game.

Once I get an Amiga 500 mini, time to hack it and install Protracker 2/3 on it.

Dom DeLillo, David Foster Wallace, Cormac McCarthy, and
Thomas Pynchon. The four horsemen of postmodernity.

AxA

Harold Bloom is a despicable Jew.

My Little Pony mixed with White Nationalism is like a sci-fi dime pulp. Yet this is the center of queer culture.

Academia has become a pulp industry, an enlightened pleasure-reading past time. A "Book Club" that should not be a pedigree. Get me out of here.

As capitalism declines, there is no way to "save the book industry." Books are dead. Just like boomers and "profits in command." No one is doing anyone a favor by forcing someone to buy a book by Toni Morrison all while reaping profit to pay rent in South San Francisco.

I created the Mr. Krabs meme. I did. I was the first to introduce the fad on YTMND.com.

AxA

✕

I'm a fascist. Fuck work.

✕

Women are free to woo over men and be playful. But often, they take no accountability towards ethics or a larger concern about society. Watch them become prostitutes when a dangerous time is ahead. Always they will dig their own "safe space."

✕

"safe space" is corporate lingo and propaganda. No seriously academic institution believes in such a fake concept. The etymology comes from criticism, not from sincere postmodern intellectuals. By using "safe space" in sincerity, one paints them as objects of ridicule.

✕

As a satanist, It's all about destruction and pranking those who have done me wrong. 666.

✕

Rock Me Gently.

Summer Playlist 2021:

Kid N' Play - Bounce
Red Flag - If I Ever
Information Society - Running
Warren G - This DJ
Cause and Effect - Another Minute
The Assembly - Never Never
X Clan - Cosmic Ark
Faith Assembly - Denial
Massive Attack - Daydreaming
Talk Talk - The Last Time
SSQ - Anonymous
Sandii - Zoot Kook
Boards of Canada - Dayvan Cowboy
Mad Lion - Take It Easy
Dave Rogers - Space Boy
Bask - Si Commandante! (Real Shit Mix)
DNA - Size
Treasure Mammal - Princess Diana Beanie Baby

Yoshinori Sunahara - Lovebeat
Canibus - 100 Bars
Stereolab - Jenny Ondioline
Cibo Matto - Birthday Cake
Atari Teenage Riot - Get Up While You Can!
Starfyer 59 - 2nd Space Song
Hardfloor - Acperience 1
Iris - When I'm Not Around

i don't like promiscuous stuff either or what they call "casual sex." Sex should be a direct translation of loving each other. Alain Badiou knew the so-called "hookup" or "one night stand" is fake. It is impossible is there is a thing called Platonism.

I may talk big game of "oh yeah, i get with girls!" But thats just me being funny and friendly. when in all actual reality, every girl I get with, I have a beautiful, long term, promising relationship with that is exciting and loving. The first time meeting her and the experience that counts, not the act of "getting laid."

I am against date rape and sex as a commodity. People in the club are all looking for platonism and romance. They just have some level of being broken they need to direct. Big City, Bright Lights.

Anyone who has sex with one another person, gay or straight, is doing a direct, platonic love, based on sincerity. Both are asking to be forever, together. You cannot ignore it and say "it was just for fun!"

When I got with an Indian girl on the floor, I got her number, and she wanted to see me again. We went on three dates, and then she kind of wanted me to go through crazy hoops and things like that, and so I didn't feel like it and she left me. ...But basically we met by doing dry sex on the floor. I believe the song was by Basement Jaxx.

It's the club music that unites lovers together and creates romantic anime fiction. That's what people are addicted to.

"Body count" is an inhuman thing. It's like you kill people. That's all bullshit. It's really about love.

Race-realism is normal. And everyone respects their own boundaries. Racism is just racial hatred. Hatred is not prejudice or preference. People are bound to hate if you force them to adapt certain alien behaviors.

I believe in the defense of hatred. Hate is normal and rational. You need it to be an adult. Hate is not natural if it's irrational and painful.

...And then the Asian girls falls in love with you, like she's a protagonist to an anime nobody is watching. Check out the latest in young adult fiction books. Who writes them? Asian American women.

Imagine normies taking positions of power. It's call getting a Phd at a state school. ...Welcome to hell.

AxA

✕

Kill all cheerleaders.

✕

Rotten Society. Revenge Fantasy. Consenting Adults.

Non-practicing Homosexuals.

Asian Punk Girl.

POC Talk.

✕

The Black People. Exactly, what is "black?"

✕

The rhetoric in a "liberal science" paper is annoying. We know citing such things like SpongeBob is not just lowbrow, but comes off as pretentious and subversive. Thank you creative writer! You will get your Wikipedia article soon. Camille Paglia would be proud!

✕

Imagine creative writing with some interest in Chicago style citation and pomo formatting. Anyone can do it. You don't need a PhD. The sad part, it won't sell in an academic Journal if it didn't have SpongeBob in it.

Never get intimidated by what a woman wrote.

To get that PhD white collar job, where jobs are rare in 2021, be as queer as possible, create a new discipline beyond what is out there, claim to have a value and commodity in that discipline you made up. Capitalism shoots itself in the foot.

Spend $300,000 and in a decade, then get an adjunct professor job making 50k a year. No promise of tenure. Constant shifts of positions, moving state to state, lucky to get in an academic journal, only if you knew someone or wrote something neoliberal. People are desperate to believe that there is a tangible thing called meritocracy.

"white" means middle class values, "black" means struggling and oppressed outsider. When will this just be an attack on admixture European people?

"black owned businesses." Capitalism has sunk to a whole new low.

Liberals are fucking crazy. Assume Nazism is everywhere and anywhere without proof. Like a group of "whites maliciously sampling black music" like it's an evil trend. What black music and what examples?

Kpop is a legit nationalist pypop to get white guys into Korean women, not "asian" or Japanese. I can tell the difference between a Chinese, Japanese, and Korean all in the same room. Korean, although more genetically related to antiquity, has definitely Anglo passing body and face. But the Japanese definitely is straight up Anglo/Aryan Pagan islander looks. I further welcome this Korean woman nationalism heading our way.

It is difficult to be friends with a corrupted adult actress who has PTSD and sees sex as her only way of socializing. Rather, we are good men that just want to be friends with them to talk Plato and stuff.

If she has the mommy thing going on, then it's good. She does not want sex or money. It's like a punk rock sister.

I like Marcia Hase. But she only got popular because she was the first to do Japanese female on black male. But Hase from what I know lives in LA and was seen on OkCupid going out on dates. So she must be a really cool and laid back mom looking for a future family life.

Sexuality is the key to greater enlightenment. But often, we get dumb and just want sex without self discovery of our own, letting the ID out. I'm sure the Geisha girl, even though a sex escort with right-leaning politics, still desires white men and other things. Sex is transcendental and ultimately platonic, in all forms.

Hence why there's this hip word going about, "simp." No one is being a simp if you ask a girl out, or get sex from the encounter. And no one is being a simp if we have a friend that does porn. The simp accusation comes from id dumb desires of thinking you can get love from someone who is actually using you.

I don't think there is a message of nihilism behind all of this and I'm not an isolated being having my own opinion with regards to sex. I believe, with fact and truth, sex is transcendental and platonic to the spirit of any human. That sex, even rape, ultimately shapes our psyche. We need sex positivity, not jealousy or envy. We don't need sex that objectifies us as edible tools. As Andrea Dworkin has said, that "sex is rape" according to the individual and liberal logic.

Ordinary Nihilism vs. Liberal Nihilism. Bad nihilism is the liberal kind.

We will have a cosmo future that is unapologetically nationalist and antilib.

Ellsworth Kelly nationalism.

AxA

✕

David Foster Wallace is a centrist, but acts like Ted Cruz when he wants to be bad.

✕

Eng 101 boomer shit they think their kids would like.

✕

Design is ultimately an analytical discipline. "Design" in the mumbo jumbo talk of "anything that can be anything" and "liberal criticism of the object" is a little insidious.

✕

All boys in college post 2016 became white nats. ...Not soyboys where mommy and daddy already lined up a job for them before they took their first semester. For us, it was a long, four to six year paper chase. The jobs the soyboys take up? Front desk at CarMax. On the weekend? D&D Group. BA? Cultural anthropology. Us? Living off Biden bucks.

✕

For the rest of us, it was a bullshit game to get through college, and we all knew the truth outside the classroom.

Full of lying professors doing their job. I use to think they were telling the truth. No. This is the only job they are ever going to get. They are deliberately lying to keep the consumer happy.

College post 2008 def became a scam writ large, and in addition, apart of the decline of capitalism and the country.

The death of white collar work, the death of the middle class, the death of home ownership, many things died with it. You start to believe, through "The Slaughter of The Cities," that these values were a form of social control plus white flight. It wasn't natural ever to be middle class and a boomer.

"Division of labor" is such a bullshit thing. Anyone can be a scientist without credentials. No one is born one. See David Harvey's "Time and Space Compression." Think about it. The time it takes to be a doctor vs. when in all actuality, you can be a doctor on day one if the boss was your doctor. This was normal a century ago.

Spend $210k at SVA and risk it to make the money back by trying to get a 1 out of 50 artsy position to work on storyboarding for a pozzed PBS show.

The number one thing colleges don't teach you: Neoliberal capitalism rules over us, we can't talk about that reality, and you are a consumer in a consumer friendly environment where we can't offend you. And plus, chances are, we are a byproduct to the liberal individualistic lifestyle you live, and "you can leave here anytime." But we want your money, and only your money. Good luck being a capitalist outside college.

The number one bad colleges tell you: "You are an adult now!" Such neoliberal bullshit. In an intellectual environment, The student surrenders itself to the teacher, and no one is an intellect right off at the age of 18. Being an adult does not equate to rational decisions. Being an adult means being a consumer. If I am an adult, do I have the right to be a serial killer?

Colleges have become props to an anime nobody is watching, but which some can afford. Nihilism writ large. "I am having a college experience right now!" "They were the days of my life!" "...In my late teens to early 20s, things were wild!" Erik Erikson says something about our society.

You need to see dating as a young adult novel in action. An anime in front of you. That ideology dominates platonism.

Sex, violence, race, and work, are the four magical things we cant talk about.

If a girl drank some beer, then it's an icebreaker. The problem I have is that most girls are on drugs. That's unethical.

When gays drink, it quickly becomes, "let me suck your dick."

AxA

✕

John Kricfalusi is a blue Gatorade god.

✕

Breadtube serves Imperialism.

✕

All English majors: "I read Proust so you didn't have to!"
They confuse intellectualism as a trade, in a so-called division of labor society. Profits are in command.

✕

Colleges are still brainwashing kids with the latest in BLM and Covid fashion. But it won't make sense that their future is about working at a record store and 80k in debt. ...There is always Tinder! At least you feel like your life is a romantic anime!

✕

The purpose to get everyone to college, was to make them more open-minded towards cosmo and liberal ideas. Now it's turning them towards work, as a cog in the machine.
"My brainwashing degree." As Richard Wolff has said,

Starbucks won't hire anyone unless the worker has a random BA.

The 80s-2000s college experience was a failure. Its purpose was to create an intellectual masses of people. Instead, it made people more ideologically driven and divided. Liberalism is cancer.

Watch 3-South.

Higher values of morality is reached by ethics and virtues, by seeing it through abstract objects, so called. In other words, the human soul and character. Our love for women is platonic. Gay people also see platonism as an excuse for gay marriage.

Korean Americans are something because they hate white people, all while loving them at the same time. It would be considered a toxic relationship, but really it's their way of showing love. They actually get aroused by saying how much they hate white people, only then for their white boyfriend to stay with her. Sarah Jeong is hot.

I want Franny Choi to sit on my face. I want her to abolish me.

I am sucker for Chinese American women or just straight up Chinese. They are very compatible to any successful relationship. However, the bad side is that Chinese will often shame you if you don't represent the ideal model. I have my experience. ABG, or asian baby girl Chinese, are like Stacys but actually choose incel men over chads. It's amazing.

Japanese, the most rarest and sought after. But Korean is pretty common nowadays. Plus, Japanese women are snobs. Japanese women would go with a white guy if given a chance. Ideally, all white people are Japanese and vice versa.

Girls are stupid because they think men don't have feelings. We do.

Women think they can use a guy for sex and the next day, he's ok and moves along with life. Absolutely not! He has been raped. Unless he can conquer her, on that night and the next day, and together start a beautiful relationship.

Girls who ignore you are the ones asking help. You have to intervene and show her how you can make her better. Because girls don't know any better. In fact, I would argue and say girls are negative and shouldn't be rational or make choices in positions of power. I would say you should never trust her instincts or her rational thoughts. People, man and woman, don't know what they are saying.

I am a porn critic. I appreciate the adult actresses and actors. Sometimes the guy is annoying and the woman is fine. Sometimes the guy is fine but the woman is annoying. I keep names and know sites. But again, once you get actual sex, porn becomes kind of comical and rather just pulpish fantasy. You are too busy having actual sex, why look at porn? Porn becomes a cartoon at that point.

AxA

I miss hood or “gangster” Asian American girls. And then it's like she becomes apart of dreamworld and she is a living subculture. AxA stuff. But then I hate guys who say “oh fuck, shit, oh god” during porn. It's really annoying and so fake.

Storytelling is not game design. I guess it's “narrative design.” Even then, is storytelling “design?” I don't think so.

White nationalism is an elite class interest. We need to abolish it.

The main reason why I left the board game hobby:
Retarded neoliberal decadent soyboy retards. Games and design are interesting concepts, just dumb people are into them. It's a lot like being into porn. Innate axiom of childish people.

Today, to be accepted as an artist, you learn a flashy video program, and then you are a genius.

There is a large focus on BMWF without any real revolution of it going about. The true revolution is WMAF, the real silent majority. Why does the state target BMWF? To keep poor blacks living in a fantasy that they belong to middle class individualism, something so anti Afrocentric, they call it racist. The Eurocentric state wishes to get rid of this chaotic African behavior, or at least co-opt it. Afro Aryans will have an eternal conflict with cosmopolitan neoliberal capitalism.

White woman: "I'm saving the environment by buying perfume at a naturally organic and authentic [in the Heideggerian sense] black owned business that can flourish in our peaceful loving society!"

"Spending money feels really good, now that I'm focusing on losing my money in an ethical way to save people."

"See? Blacks can be Eurocentric-minded capitalists!"

The middle class is turning into some “queer” bourgeois culture. Creepy.

“Queer” is an eccentric and artistic individual outside the norm. American society wishes that all normies become queer. It’s the next step in liberal enlightenment. What we will see is an endless “queer stacking” war on who is a bigger queer, in rational and ethic terms. But again, a “trans black Muslim” will win out against the “trans white Muslim.” There is such a concept called “queer points” or the “queer resume.”

My belief has been that whites treat blacks like animals, by both liberal and conservative sides. Liberals believe they are individuals, but they feel pathological altruism by saving an endangered species. White liberals want to respect black culture, but still have San Francisco just for them. Flying rainbow flags is a lifehack, because they can scare blacks away all while practicing white nationalism. While white conservatives know race is real, they still believe in individualism on the basis we should focus on blank-lateism and by being racist is believing in a thing called

"identity politics." It's hard to find blacks existing in Nebraska. Whites want to be benevolent caretakers. Meanwhile, they are referees to a game nobody wants to play. Again, whites are really not interested in black culture. They just want to do ethical and Christian-minded altruism. If they did like something from black culture, Lander said it was based around "black music that black people don't like anymore."

The huge interest in Asian (Japanese) culture comes from their desire to focus on one hegemonic and open-minded Eurasian people, with accelerating technology, biculturalism acting as multiculturalism, passive women, and an overall artsy society. Kind of like what our elites desire in the Disney romance, Big Hero 6. There is this subtle "racism" that neoliberal capitalism practices. The silent tech-oriented, anime-realist WMAF class want to be away from blacks. Forever and ever. It's not possible to be a collective of individuals. So what's next? Become the thing that lives "the good life" away/detached from white guilt and whiteness. How? By not being genetically European, and rather having some traits with large half Asian (Chinese) genes, the next big thing. A huge lifehack away from post-WW2 self-guilt.

Admixture European people will be gone in 50 years. The only thing will remain is "whiteness." Could whiteness be Eurasian? Absolutely. The elite are obsessed with destroying the middle class and its values. Anything that remains them of deracination must be destroyed and replaced with an authentic identity. The irony, however, is that people will naturally gravitate towards an authentic identity. I agree whiteness is a bad thing. Whiteness is deracination writ large.

The problem is not white men, but rather, it's their most spoiled counterpart, white women. They have oppressed every human being and police themselves into decadence. They never hold accountability. By using alt-right logic, true "anti-whiteness" is advocated by white women, and they don't even know they are doing anything wrong. The eternal Karen.

There is a horrible fad in game design that game design "tells a story" which is so biased and a form of social control. If you are into storytelling, don't make "games," write books!

Game design is seriously just a machine, a computer, a program, a set of rules we execute with objects around us to play with. Storytelling is its own cause and effect thing of sorts. It's how the story teller expresses it.

When you talk pomo, and get deep in semantics, it's pretentious, and only attracts the ivory tower and insecure. Otherwise known as young people. Modernism is cancer. Read Donald Davidson instead.

Hipsters like Nick Land. Incels love Donald Davidson.

Board game night is a great alternative to meet nerdy girls who feel the same way.

There is a brainwashing paradox happening post 1980s where public education only can teach you what they do at "work." That is, no one is questioning what is work. If everyone is forced to get a profession and slave away to a state nobody likes, I have to right to drop out of society, and never participate, living off UBI towards the good life. Bob Black was right.

Nihilism is a strong current in the middle class. They know it's the elephant in the room, but continue to pretend to not see it. One day, one day, an event worse than 9/11 will happen, destroying the middle class overnight. I might see it in my lifetime. They elite are excited for that day too.

Nihilism is a good thing. The right kind of nihilism. Not liberal nihilism. The nihilism where we build spaceships and go to the moon kind. Not the E-girl neoliberal kind. It seems so simple to explain, but so many normies are actually self-destructive.

Everyone is doxxed by now. Secret societies are gay. Be public.

Getting with Kim Yo Jong is a fantasy any decent guy should have. She's a babe.

In this accelerating and automative society, publishing books, music and art is a completely economic worthless pursuit. You can have robots do it for you and call it your own IP. The return of the slave master. Watch these trolls use AI programs to write novels just as good as Mike Ma.

At that point, why as a human, should you create art in 2021 and beyond?

Brendan Kissam once showed me dick-bulge over text. It was hot and consensual. He was ready to have passionate gay sex with me. I was too scared, I said no. Kissam still is fighting for an openly gay white nationalist society.

If I wear an Ian Brandy silkscreen t-shirt during a protest march, it's not "bad optics." It's cool and avant-garde as fuck.

I am not a homonationalist. But I like the aesthetics.

Yaeji is annoying. She is a Fed.

"I know a lot of racists with mixed race kids," they pretend to say. The liberal in denial. To this logic, they still have "hate" in their heart. As if this racist race mixer is a solipsist. The liberal is nothing more than a deracinated "white" person, advocating uptight liberal issues rooted in middle class values.

The liberal hates all mean people, and sees everything as potentially Eurocentric and white like them.

No. I am not "owning the lib." I don't subscribe to some right-wing subculture.

"You don't have to race mix if you don't like the person. I will only race mix if it's based upon love." ...This itself is a self-defeating attitude.

"Well I'm so nice, I'll let any nonwhite into my Funko pop hobby, but that's not up to me to race mix or be assimilated into their culture!" ...Racism? Pathological altruism? Nice white guyism? Or boomer centrism? Whatever it is, it's retarded.

Ultimately, there is an ethnocide of sorts, because "white" is not a solid race or authentic identity. Whenever it tries to be something greater, it fails under enemy semantics. But again, not "British" nationalism! "They are ok! Same with Palestinian racial nationalism!"

Whites often believe the world is open-ended, and anything can happen. They want the liberal opportunity to do anything they want. What causes offense among whites is that you clamp down or restrict their freedom. It's up to an individual to decide what they want, if that means irrationally getting a sex change. The only time a sex change would make sense if "it feels right," whatever that means. For example, A white man didn't pursue a black woman because of any objectification or fetish, but out of "his own love." Again, to them, it could be anyone! This in turn creates a cuckolded class of fake cosmopolitan liberals, where their mixed kids will create a brand new identity politics without liberalism. So yes, they are shooting themselves in the foot. Liberalism is still cancer. AxA.

TV culture is like a fake, white, "imagined" community that isolated the viewer to never goes to NYC or California. The victim is brainwashed to enjoy living alone, with an imagined community. This happened to the boomer generation. Isolation is social control.

It was very difficult, and a risk, to travel between the states back in the 1940s, all the way up to the 80s. Imagine having no GPS technology or any smartphones. The car did revolutionized the way we travel, but as well made capitalism more schizophrenic and demanding. The next step, after Covid, is to eliminate cars all together. Stay home, access the internet, and eliminate the concept of commuting to work. Hollister Kopp wrote about something similar.

...Anyone want to play Worms 3D online with me?

AxA

The elites basically created Facebook and rewrote history to suit the FB agenda. "There was no such thing as Myspace! Move along!"

Jewish girls will game you once you are a celebrity or powerful in any niche marketplace.

I use to try and seek validation from a punk rocker named Robert Inhuman when I was 17. Honestly, I don't want to imagine he's having gay sex or sucking dick like a blonde college Stacy chick in a Pornhub video.

My mom told me "Go Japanese or Jewish. That's how you succeed!" What wisdom!

Old boomers like me like Mouse On Mars. What the fuck is Iglooghost? Sounds like European Foodman.

Tim Biskup is pretty much my ideological step dad.

My whole graduate degree was based upon modulars, generators, and randomness in Design, especially applied to games. I been meaning to write something more about it..

I am anti-Dieter Rams. "Elegance" is social control. Not against his personal aesthetics, but his cosmo co-opted philosophy on products as "elegant tools for social control," or "human centric" tools. So much of smartphone technology and Apple use Ram's concept of elegance against us everyday. Making the interface too minimal, too easy, dumbs down the rest of intellectual society. Elegance dumbs down human intellect and creativity, and punishes the complicated and sophisticated.

For the last two decades, the middle class processionals tried to label the non-normative students with "Aspergers." It was a scam so they could get a paycheck.

Falun Gong is a a Helter Skelter Waco-Doomsday party, that if China was to attack us, they will have a resistance party in Deer park. They are some spiritual national socialist types that the US government funds.

A shitty college on a resume is worse than not attending one. Write that you went to a different college instead.

The middle class with attended shitty colleges have a problem. YouTube won't hire them, and they dislike working at Taco Bell. So what happens? The creation of a fake, network of white collar jobs in demand for an entire class who went to no-named colleges with irrelevant pedigrees. This is what the middle class good life is about. Capitalism must create fake jobs in order to stimulate money and to carry on their existence as consumers. The middle class is just mere lab rats for the rich.

White nationalism is what happens in The Jetsons. Towers so high, everyone else is at the bottom.

That the reality is, that women don't fit inside capitalism. Pink-collar work is that reality. And it's right to be a feminist against the capitalist system, which is inherently anti-woman. Woman can work, but don't deserve to work for profit.

Hedonism, liberal nihilism, consumer culture, subculture... All these desperate things people do to opt out of this hot potato, musical chairs society. When the boomers are gone, do we uphold their values? When Gen-X is gone, do we uphold their values? Existence is in flux, so as long the prevailing liberal nihilist regime sedates us. Eventually, the middle class will die and SkyNet takes over.

America culture and capitalism is hostile to any meaning of "work." Anarchist have similar beliefs. No one wants to care about, or interested in, "work." We are told at a young age, that "work is evil." "Work causes pain." ...Far from it! Work is what beavers do to build dams, squirrels do to collect nuts, and bees do to make honey. Work is a natural part of human existence. The problem is, we don't have an honest dialogue about it. Americans don't reward certain work behaviors, while capitalism relies solely on profits-in-commands. Supply and demand cycles determine what makes profit on a crazed, schizophrenic level. Work is what adults do. The artist understands work, that it is in work that makes his art. Another American misconception is “everything is art,” because it dances around and ignores work. Everything is NOT art! It is merely work. Work is what produces art.

It's Okay To Hate "White" People.

There is a reason why beauty also translates to being an ethically and morally good person, and the ugly related to evil. However, this was made up to make beautiful people feel good and superior, while bad people can pretend to feel accepted. Physiognomy is relevant with the “soyboy” look, following natural prejudice that they act a certain way. Every DemSoc seems to look the same too. Ideologically speaking, white nationalists will tend to believe hipsters are weak people and must be liberal. Of course, this follows into subculture, another social control tool. Such as, “you can’t be punk unless you advocate for BLM!” Mimetic theory rules out Physiognomy.

Liberals are so smug, they believe all their enemies must ideological disagree with their preferences. To them, there are “smart” people, and those who cause pain. They just want to play a race-blind game of sorts. ...Have they not read René Girard or Dick Hebdige?

I am an anti-modernist. I am not a reactionary either. We don't have to go back. We just went the wrong way while progressing. We have to abolish modernism and all forms of it.

Egalitarianism, Universalism, Individualism, Democracy, all rooted in Modernism. So much of what it means to be a white person means these traits. We must slay this dragon.

I am an ex-white man.

“Post-History” is the next step after the great collapse.

Black girls are smart if they get with white guys.
We like that.

White people in college who, "live the moment, and embrace the experience" are pretty much emulating their suburban middle class environment and are forcing themselves to enjoy a rollercoaster ride. It is clearly an unpaid vacation.

I don't believe in metapolitics. This is mind control, or popularity games people play under free market capitalism. There is no such thing as a culture war. Consumer trends working under the market. Those who advocate for meta politics realize they must work with capitalism. They are not fooling anyone. Thus anti-capitalism becomes a capitalist enterprise. The same can be said about white nationalism.

Nobody wants to admit it, but violence creates revolutions. Violence is one of those things we just don't talk about.

AxA

✕

"Out of Africa theory" is propaganda is to help the esteem of poor black Americans. "We Wuz Kangs," but on a grand neoliberal capitalist scale.

✕

Year0001 is cringe. I get it. It's for white boys that want POC girls.

✕

AxA is a punk subculture of those into WMAF/AMWF and naturally antilib plus the punk mentality of being oppressed by the state, because we need to advocate Eurasian Futurism.

✕

Yes. Markets destroy nations.

✕

There are great works of art that come out everyday, than just things that pop up out of nowhere, but most of us don't have the expensive resources, the publishing agency, the team, or even the connections to really show the public we need more attention.

When we talk about Stephen King, aside from all the shill stuff about him, the overrated nature of his books and his monopoly in the publishing industry, we have to ask whatever if there is such a thing called "skill" in his work, or by chance and a good amount of luck, he got there by churning out lots of pulps to his ability, and some of them, like "It", stick to everything. Many great and grand artists exist today and are not known by the public or any elite establishment. It happens all the time. Usually they are discovered years later after their death, or just forgotten. And most in the "worth listening to" category is based on some agenda to sell books or some ideology wrapped up into it. Often getting on a mainstream publishing house requires the author to shut up, sell books, create a clean PR, and on good occasion, can be eccentric.

Harold Bloom, who on trash on, is that figurehead that believes anyone can enjoy the "English lit" canon for its wisdom, ethics, morality, even the blurred concepts of "storytelling," "the novel," all that bogus. Modernism is apart of some ivory tower hobby or fake canon of sorts that is being dwarfed by new technology and subcultures. Imagine being white, and you read old books to justify your middle class existence, or a gated-community.

I remember two years ago, I bought over 50 books with regards to "game design" and in particular "board game design." Did I ever make a board game? Only two. All that reading gives me wisdom, but the most important part is to just do and create. Then I just become some kind of ivory tower academic who does not design board games, but became some kind of elitist, cultural commentator.

This is pretty much anyone who had a PhD in English literature, and they know it. They make money off of reading books and being apart of a book club, without any contribution to the art, or their innermost desires to be a novelist or writer. It is only important when a PhD writes academic journal entires, which is becoming less significant as the years go by. The most important part is to DO, and less about prep. Higher academia, and all throughout undergrad, is a prep course. Even graduate is some kind of "PhD prep." We never DO in academia! One submits themselves as the student, and as the perpetual teacher, who was once a student like them. But was this teacher famous from his giant prep course? Or is teaching another way to get money and continue the endless circle of "why bother?"

If storytelling, even the action of writing, is some kind of "skill" with some "good" or "bad" "values" to it, then are their people who have the innate ability inside of them to be good writers at the age of 18? And are there innate people who are just "bad" writers? The key is to just write now, and look at your written work later. Writing and creating art has to do with self-discovery, and less so about an intellectual operating system. In addition with accelerating technology, the concept of a novelist, a written work, is becoming obsolete. AI will soon construct novels for us.

I am sure No modern artist today has a pre-planned standard applied to their work. They just do. And the critical stuff comes later. I don't think Oulipo and Gamebooks are pre-planned at all, and rather, follow a set of rules which are fun and interesting.

...Is it wrong to write another "My Immortal" in 2021?

I know many people who make music, write, even paint as a "hobby," without ever realizing the potential they could make money from it or become a brand. Sometimes, a hobby is that. Why should we make profit from it?

The ever increasing automative nature of accelerating technology and products is a problem. We stop looking at art, and focus more on consumption. And the concept of "value" becomes skewed. Robots will make art.

I didn't masturbate until I was 14.

Konpeto is an amazing hentai artist.

Get a gay boyfriend to workout with if you are weak. That way you can learn how to overcome weakness with a stronger guy and learn to appreciate getting it up the butt plus learning to get better. Then you become ex-Gay and go with a POC girl.

The electronic music scene on YouTube has become nothing more than indirect demonstration salesmen, mixed with Kardashian YouTube e-celeb drama.

Again, liberalism is cancer. But classical nihilism makes us powerful, and lets us take down our enemies. It's not that we should be free to do what we want, or it's all on us, but rather, we need a sense of no regret to get what we want beyond systematic oppression.

The Olympics in Japan... as if America is not about winning games, but instead showcasing to other clients that "you have the freedom to be whatever you want, and we take pride in that!" A queer culture to opt out of Chinese society.

America does not participate in soccer, on the notion global capitalism will lose to one of its clients. America must be at all times a propaganda state. A "woman" for them is an ideological, subcultural consumer choice. It's just swayed by popular demand!

An ideological concept of suburbia or the middle class is created to balance out this "family units of extreme individuals." We have seen this self-destruct with the boomer hatred of suburbia in the 1960 to 70s.

There is no concept of "egalitarianism" under capitalism. It's rather a facade to mean "the equality of consumption and desires." If so, whatever is popular, in the current decade, like trans people, you will see these so-called egalitarians all becoming trans. Out of this popular demand, there is a new level of irony. People are NOT the same if there are MORE consumers within popular CHOICES and subcultures!

The undeniable idpol that WMAF is a large and threatening group to the upper mobile class. WMAFs cannot say they are liberal and egalitarian. Why is that? The choice to be WMAF, and the subculture itself, is a prejudice and statement against everyone else.

Oh No!

Capitalism the free markets under it are a popularity contest of supply and demand cycles that dictate the immoral attitudes of the dumb masses of people. The elites know this, so this is why they make insidious propaganda to control them. Just to retain wealth, power, and meaningless transactions. Want to be gay? We got a flag for you! This is woke capitalism.

Truth is rewritten. It becomes generational. A historical erasure will happen. Happenstance of new historians writing "we have always be racist Eurasians!" But why, for no reason, did Eurasianism happened in the first place? They won't tell you that. But I will.

As E. Micheal Jones has said, suburban houses were cheap, 20k per unit, to sway ethnic whites with a better life outside the city. No more Irish, German, or French groups. Just whites. This ended in disaster, as we are now seeing the results of the boomers. Either they grew the mentality that there was a Third Reich of endless suburban living, or they hates living there, and instead wished something outside that world.

Hence why you now have 60-ish aged boomers thinking the good life is living childhood back in 1950s Ohio. The radicals of their time protested suburbia! Instead, the boomer normies just rot and stay in suburbia. Remember, there was no GPS, Google Maps, any safe transportation to discover the states in the 1950 to 80s. So it was best to never leave the suburban farm out in Idaho.

Boomers will all die in two decades and there will be a new flux of Gen-Xers who will reform suburbia into POC living spaces, while retaining whiteness in the cities. Maybe home ownership will be a black, exclusive thing?

God fucking help us.

The Gen-X goal is to annihilate all poor whites so there is only rich whites. It's happening. Welcome to The Jetsons! There will soon be no whites living in suburbia, because suburbia will be for future POC people. Whites have to live in the city now.

Gentrification was the process of these whites realizing how dull suburbia was, as it was mere social control to begin with, only now to be used as tools by this Jetsons reality of high tower capitalism. The laze referees blows their whistles. "BLM!" He wonders if he should quit his job, but continues on anyway. Musical chairs and hot potato, death will soon set him free.

The standard and health of white people increase, like being Jewish. But it is a glitch right now to be considered a poor white. "poor," and "white." Such semantic irony.

Just imagine a future where they find a white baby at the bottom, and a nurse says "A white baby can't be here! We must get him in an adoption center in the sky!" This is what white nationalism wants. Whites have become second-class Jews.

Lust is also intimate too. We just don't know it.

You have to literally call her on the phone or meet her in person without her will. That's paternalism.

Men and women are different. But Beta providers are insecure and believe there is no such thing as identity politics, but extreme consumer individualism.

Blasian is amazing if you can find it. Aim for Jamaican/Chinese mix. I did a podcast with my Blasian girlfriend four years ago. We need that voice.

I like Ted K. I feel it's more like me being a reactionary against all leftoid thought that plays dumb high school subcultural games.

NYC, LA, SF, Chicago, Philly, and even some cities in Texas, has to stop being hotbeds for "something to do in your 20s," and back to a real, organic structure. It will happen.

The thing is, with Zoom dominated jobs, is that the white-collar class does not have to commute anymore. And by stirring up the lie that there is a “dangerous variant of COVID” out there now, they can stay in their McMansion in Ohio, all while getting the money from their job they are suppose to commute to in SF. This is a capitalist lifehack.

Even those people on Biden Bucks, they fear Covid variants just so the weekly cash keeps coming in. Maybe we should give up on capitalism and create a UBI, socialist society. But America is dishonest. It will keep making up lies after another to never admit “our government is broken.”

...What if I told you, the entire elite class, with trust funds and post anglo-saxon features, are all complete fucking idiots, just like normies, and all have been told, like the middle class, to enjoy life, do whatever you want with the money, and never have any feelings towards paternalism and care for society? You know, because a robot with automate it for them!

Denver is interesting because it is so isolated from any other major city. About a 5 to 6 hours away from Santa Fe, and what the hell is up north?? This makes it perfect, so no nonwhites care to move into the snowy mountains, and itself makes it a gated-community where only retired families settle in. The baseball stadium is literally walking distance from any part of Denver. No homeless people. Craft beer places everywhere! And they also have rent-a-scooters! Denver always votes Republican, with all the petty lies of transhumanism and liberal care it advocates. I am not surprised to hear the heir of a Denver family moving to NYC or SF with their families money.

Blaming Heidegger logic on everything is so dumb. That's why the far-right is ass backwards, because it neglects current affairs in favor of a size-fit-all pomo subculture. Has it occur to them that this little subculture of sorts is what the capitalist class wants?

Keith Woods sucks dick.

Martin Heidegger believes that “authenticity” is something apart of the human soul, and to be really authentic, one has to be a part of nature. Often we really don’t know what authenticity is. It’s something that makes us naturally human, but often Heidegger will have these concepts like “the chatter” or “thrown into being,” and that we are really just animals on a floating planet, and the whole canon of Western philosophy is trying to say that we should “increase our liberal intellectualism and understand the individual.” Heidegger says No. We have a connection with authenticity, and we have to then go into this kind of race-realist nationalism, or that we have to know there’s a difference between man and woman, and that nationalism is a connection with the inner spirit, of monkeys in a jungle. Take it or leave it. The far-right thinks this is fact.

I believe that accelerating technology will destroy many human disciplines. Much of the previous history now has to be rewritten with regards to what “celebrities were famous for.” And at the time, did we really think that these people like Octavia Butler should even be regarded as a famous writer? To think now, that a digital typewriter is not even worth anyone’s time anymore, and that YouTube, or speech-to-text, can speak through the smartphone and let a computer write for me. Speech technology, as of 2021, is accurate to a point of no return. Why bother typing anymore? Butler, as we can see her through certain technological advances, is a fraud made up by the boomer class. We will soon debunk more revisionists as time comes. Just imagine having Instagram live, while walking into the gas chambers at Auschwitz!

There is even this revision in history that Alcibiades did not write a single word! When in actuality, we lost those documents during a war. And now, we only know Alcibiades because of Plato. And Plato's narrative makes Alcibiades look like he's a bad guy. While Alcibiades is actually something more like Roosh V or some red pill blogger. I personally live my life like Alcibiades. ...Now imagine if we gave a YouTube channel back then, and he would be so profound, even greater than Plato!

It's not so much about controlling desires, but rather, we should admit that desire is real.

Charles Nunno, Count Fosco, is a fucking faggot.

What's even more horrifying is that on Counter-Currents, Greg Johnson openly talks about how much money he is making in donations. And I can tell you, it's in the 10 to 30k limit. That's enough to live in a nice loft in a different country or live in a nice sanctuary like in Manhattan or San Francisco. So, where is this white nationalist revolution? Greg Johnson is openly telling people to write their will under his name! And that so-called revolutionary money? It's being used so Greg can live the nice, affluent, cosmopolitan life. This type of life contradicts the hillbilly lifestyle of West Virginia. So Greg knows who he is exploiting... stupid people! And that, my friend, is his business. So as a capitalist, you can never be open to your audience and say "I'm exploiting you."

If you get rid of Jews in positions of power, that does not mean that overnight, the capitalist system will be fixed! Why in the world do white nationalists think that somehow, a Heideggerian reality, is the answer to all of their problems? And to also mention, "white" still means "go buy a house in the suburbs!"

I'm fighting any form of egoism. Being arrogant is unhealthy. And social media is destroying normal people.

J. J. Przybylski was an interesting old man from Philadelphia, into Evola and Devi. He lives above a bar. He got mad at me when I trashed his floor, and I had to clean it up. He asked me one time we were walking, "What's that on your shirt?" And I said, "Ian Brady." He got mad at me. I guess bad optics?

Travis LeBlanc is creepy too. He's the only guy posting on Counter-Currents, and I'm ready for a hit piece on me. Has he done it yet? No. But CC has a cult vibe now. Stay away from it!

In the fall of 2017, I played Splendor with Mitski. I lost. Nobody cares that I met her. I do. She was amazing.

Michelle Zauner is a racist. Can confirm.

Enlightenment is destroying narcissism. We all find out that Sam Hyde is narcissistic.

Until you realize that even with 10-80k subs on YouTube, you mean nothing to the world.

Jonathan Bowden called himself a “reactionary Modernist,” while still holding on to the Modernist label. I appreciate the tradition and interest in racial nationalism. However, something is wrong with any modernist. The snobs keep circle jerking, all while the Marxists run them over.

If they said Caleb Maupin was obsessive over the face he wrote an entire book about Breadtube, why is nobody calling on the fact that Jonathan Bowden loves calling out Stewart Home? Home, in all fairness, did call Bowden a disgusting fascist on a YouTube comment page a decade ago.

Why must we celebrate the birthdays of grand figures of literature? Is it to remind ourselves that we must read their books again? Someone is wrong here.

Craigslist is a sin. Evil people use it.

Gay people? PTSD addicts. Can't get no women, so they tell their brain that men are easier to get. Then they try to develop a subculture around it. And then if a man has a hole, it must be penetrated. "It's normal" they all say. Some say homosexuality does not exist, and rather it's a hobby men do with each other. Instead of playing board games, "why no we get naked together and frot together?"

And if you are not "gay," you must be some "man who has sex with men." Totally not gay. Just bicurious.

How about platonism? It's just not an ejaculation!

Capitalism rewards those who reap profit off the popular zeitgeist of supply and demand cycles. It's always changing, and never has a solution. If you don't learn Final Cut Pro, or to code, you are a social outcast. You cannot buy a loft in Manhattan. Our system advocates this cutthroat behavior.

The easiest white-collar job, is the job where the employee has to be friends with the boss. Therefore, by making a YouTube channel dedicated to what's popular on YouTube, one can pretend they are a part of that class, all while reaping the popularity of those said celebrities. Easy, right?

There is something wrong about this generation, because "the American dream" celebrity has evolved into this stay-at-home nerd, living in his mom's basement, making a YouTube channel about, say "Gundam plastic figures," and gets 500k subscribers. This must mean that graduate school should accept him! This also means a white-collar job should accept his success with consumer manipulation. A naive e-girl should date him! He's now making money off of donations and flaunting his niche micro celebrity status!

This is what YouTube and Instagram is doing to our brains. There is now this cliché notion that we should all be celebrities of some microcosm, and feel good about this declining society gives us the chance to be rap stars. Imagine what this has done to women! No one can raise their hands in the air and say "Yes, I'm a loser!"

We are not Marxists, but critical of capitalism and white nationalism.

Domination and exploitation is not found in platonism, nor is it something morally affirming people want to do. I believe this is what gives us a blind eye to desires. We think it's evil. I don't think people naturally want to be power mongers or be selfish.

We must deconstruct porn to find meaning behind it, and ask, if this erotic art is really affirming our desires and getting in touch with intimacy, or is it ugly and disgusting?

I love old school Playboy magazine. A man's journal.

We have to look at 1970s to 80s porn and ask, "why did my dad or uncle enjoy this?"

I enjoy BMAF and WMBF, but something ain't right with BMWF. The white chick is always fat and ugly.

And there is certainly something wrong with WMBM where white is bottom! Rather, there should only be WMBM whites-only top gay porn! It's healthier for race relations and intimacy.

Everyone at Rosemont College hated me, including the professors! I went to Unite The Right.

The hostility in the west translates to being "free, independent, and radical." All traits of Americanism. And a rite to be said "adult." Guilty.

Regional identity is the first sign of a deracinated identity, such as city pride. NYC and California are the power structures, and hence the center of the neoliberal order. Everywhere else orbits these two places.

Pennsylvania borders the commuter state of New Jersey. So what do you call a commuter state of a commuter state? "The far east of the rust belt!"

Wherever you go with the smartphone, the internet, like YouTube and Facebook, always remains the same. Regional identity, and IRL subcultures, cannot penetrate the mass communication of the internet. Our only hope out of the misery and doldrum of the suburbs and nowhere America is through the internet. This is how Donald Trump got elected. And we now have to ask ourselves, if the influence of the internet will last in the next few decade. The elite establishments are trying to control the internet. If a great collapse happens, the internet's influence upon the public was only a four decade year old fad. This decade will be the last.

It is futile for the white nationalist movement to assume that the future is the internet. That concepts like "metapolitics" only lasted for about three decades as well. It could be very well a Gen-X fad that postmodernity and it's influence has an effect on popular culture and the future of politics. And white nationalism just found out about this silly fad.

How do MAPs, Zoos, and white nationalists make their agendas popular? By normalizing it. How so? Gaslighting the opponent, pretending to be liberal, all while assuming one's ideology has a natural place in the working order of a fair and just capitalist system.

I, Francis Forever, is having a conversation with the reader. The weapon I bring to salons is this book. It's for you, dear reader. I am La Rochefoucauld.

As a communists, white woman will be saved by learning about the woes that their white men go through everyday in this hellish world. We should emulate the DPRK instead.

AxA

Three Stages of a Real Nigga: Struggle, Grind, Shine.

A salon today means rooftop or house parties in Bushwick or Astoria. I'm ready to kick ass and be the incel at the party. Otherwise, go to Moodring and find yourself a lover.

They say the written word makes you smarter. But a sad fact, is that these are actually my spoken words written and transcribed by a machine. Technology is actually doubting the written word and the human.

A magician should never tell his secrets. I tell them anyway because I just like the truth.

How can you really think for yourself, when now you are starting to doubt the author itself?

We have to ask why are these racists involved in advocating something that is totally against them? Again, it is this fake culture war, of schizophrenia, where the hated cannot cope with its own identity. That advocating Christianity can put a veneer against their deep interest to kick out non-whites. E-Christianity is a vessel from those who want race-realism legitimate again in mainstream discourse.

“Hot Take” is nothing more than a social control device to stop any sincere dialogue in postmodern discourse. Irony must always be penetrated. Young people eat it up, like the word “cope.” As if there is something wrong with me, and not the person. The same conundrum follows with “Gaslighting.”

Eventually, real Christians will see the threat of E-Christianity, and kick them out. Christians will always become weak and sacrificial. So why assume they are based and reactionary?

Flip to any page. Ask me about something. Use it as a dialogue starter. This is a game, where we shuffle the cards and deal one out. Does this make sense? Do I make sense? We will end this with a fight. I am queer. You have been warned.

I'm not an expert of my own subject, nor do I want to be considered the idol or God of "white men interested in Asian women as an identity politic." This is a bad, deliberate transgression of my work. And I don't claim to know anything. I have desires, and my desires are morally affirming. I'm only pointing out paradoxes and hypocrisies in so-called far-right movements, while at the same time, considering myself an agent of anti-liberalism.

I am a dark Asian feminist. It's quite the opposite of a light one.

Cosmic Encounter is the one of the greatest board games of all time.

AxA

✕

My hardest job is to weed out all the mentally ill people that have Asian fetishism. I was never the leading expert on Asian fetishism. White nationalists are basically fetishist themselves! I speak of Eurasian futurism and of hidden desires under this hypocritical capitalist system.

✕

No one knew, that there was this famous white supremacist in the room...

✕

For white men, it is a culture shock to date Jewish women. You get the large butt, the nice frame, the beautiful brown hair, and a high IQ. You can throw Stacy to the side. The schnoz becomes cute!

✕

Michelle Lam's art can be defined by 14 words.

✕

The Jewish American princess, is the Alicia Silverstone, everyone wanted.

Hypergamy is the natural social status climbing within a corrupt capitalist system, where everyone is objectified, as a sexual object and as an asset.

Having sex with four Jewish women will land you a good job, compared to say, having sex with four Asian women, because they will make you queer, all while you are just looking for love within a subculture. Say by having sex with four black women, it's like you didn't have sex. Why? Over supply.

WMAF is the end result of a cornered white man who can't be himself anymore. He insists on the good life, and only gets it through anime and video games. The Chinese American will give him that lifestyle.

White nationalism is projecting paternalism upon society, but demands that society must be middle class and suburban, hence "white." There is an identity confusion in white nationalism. Whites want to consume, but they don't want to be white. They want to live their musical chairs existence, and play hot potato for the next generation. Why bother now? White nationalism sadly doesn't see it this way. Because most white people play musical chairs and hot potato because they have no identity.

I miss 2000s era Japanese women or Japanese American women. 2005 to 2009 was a different era. I was only a kid.

We have to read Lacan. Sexuality is ideological. Homosexuality is a subculture. Therefore, as an example, Asiansexuality is a type of homosexuality, and therefore apart of queer culture. "Queer" as in the deviant of the non heterosexual.

Randy Stair did nothing wrong.

How do we ascribe what makes us sexually aroused? Schools never us taught that. An interest in porn is an interest in art. We never question our own sexual interest. This is why we have to read Freud. AxA is a queer subculture.

Best reply against a YouTube hater: "How about you go and suck on a dog's dick. you fucking faggot." It's worth the ban.

The truth may be that our sexuality is ideological and based around subculture. How many times have you heard that normal white men want to get with goth wojak girls? I never found goth girls to be attractive. The wojak meme is for white people and white people only. Check any Rule 34 page, check out the artist, check out the many cartoons people masturbate over. Art can have or can create a new erotic stimulus.

Anime influenced art is leading towards this Eurasian futurism. That is to say anyone who has ever masturbated towards hentai has interest in having Eurasian children.

Our society is not getting any better as we continue to make our sexual preferences a taboo or as a decadent subculture. We do not have a sincere talk about it. It's embarrassing to some, but a world for others.

If only men realized that we could get with anyone out there. However, there is such thing as the good life, and I strongly believe that the good life is a compromise between a white man and an Asian woman. And as well as an Asian man and a white woman. There is only Eurasian futurism ahead of us.

Numbers don't lie. I don't see this Candice Owens type of mulatto nationalism happening anytime soon. All this propaganda about white men getting with black women, or even the cuckolded black man with a white woman, is not becoming an identity politic. Anything that becomes black is ultimately "black," and black is self-hating, just like being white. Deracination But you see, the Eurasian has a future. It has a subculture and it has its own art.

I have yet to meet a couple who is only meant to be together because "they want white children."

This semantic confusion of wanting “white” children will only lead to divorce. No high IQ person believes in this. What makes me think white nationalism is an intelligent movement?

Finally, so much of my criticism of white nationalism is not only correct, but those who advocate white nationalism ultimately associate the ideology with a man by the name of Greg Johnson. That if you attack or criticize white nationalism, you are attacking Greg Johnson. Greg Johnson is a smart person, supposedly, and by attacking him, you are attacking an intelligent person. We now must ask if ideology is a person rather than a movement.

Greg Johnson likes nationalism because of the subculture. It's a hobby for him. It's what gives him his daily bread. It's fun for a bit. ...But is it intelligent? Just say it's all queer culture. When I criticize white nationalism, white nationalist accuse me of having an obsession over Greg Johnson. That's very interesting, because that means all of white nationalism depends on a single leader. I criticize him, and obviously I must be crazy, because how can you attack an intelligent movement? Remember, there is no movement, it's a single person advocating it, because no one else wants to advocate white nationalism as a semantic term. Now I believe Jared Taylor refuses to talk about white nationalism, because he calls himself a white "advocate." "White nationalist verse white advocates." Not only are these led by individuals, but are both obsessed around a white identity. Both parties have two colliding definitions. E. Micheal Jones is correct. "White" is a deracinated term. We need a real identity, not a fake one based around individualism.

They will create their own races. Let them decide that identity politic for themselves. They will learn the slow way. What whites do is when they see such trends, white flight happens. And on top of that, white liberals make laws and campaigns to condemn the wrong type of white people.

Capitalism, individualism, liberalism and universalism will always be inherently against any form of white survival.

Dogmen of The Dust.

Emily Youcis, J. J. Przybylski, Jason Reza Jorjani, and Paul Kersey all in one night. What could possibly go wrong?

All modernists believe they belong to the canon they enjoy.
....As if postmodernity never happened for these people.

I always advocated Atari Teenage Riot over this kind of pretentious nonsense English majors and Modernist snobs do. The biggest joke is that they attended Rosemont College. These people are locked into their own "chasing the Jones" upward mobility class. A whiteness prison.

A true and nice and intellectual person knows right from wrong and doesn't base their life upon subculture. People who think they should choose words and pick words to sound smart are actually the pretentious ones. It's apart of this continental, or postmodern disease, because these fools don't want to do math or anything analytical, or even try to say anything in clear terms. Creative writing hell.

It's about clarity and paternalism, not about this immature, young person clout of, "Look what cool celebrity I found on Wikipedia! And now I'm going to pretend I'm a master on this subject!" They suffer from what most white people are suffering from... Not getting into their dream school.

These people think that READING for the first time, in their life at the age of 40 or late 30s, is somehow a breathtaking manly thing. And now to cope with this reality, they are pretending there's some new "beat generation," continuing the West's fascination and fetish of young people. which has only been around for about 70 years. When they were teenagers in their early twenties, they were doing drugs, drinking, raping women, and hating on incels. The irony is, now later in life, they wish they WERE the people they hated!

Words like "cope," "hot take," "content," "fetish" and "gaslighting" are made to doubt honest and sincere people, and replace it with a neoliberal lingo. Only the individual must exist, and anything against it must be the work of Satan.

Desire for these people, for those who subscribe to neoliberalism and modernity, is a sin.

"Preference," "type," or "fetish?" Perhaps there are words for good liberals, and words for those who desire.

Look at this pornographic film, and tell me, why do we love this film? The woman? The cum? The moans? The penis? We never have objectified women on film. It is not a fetish to desire a woman who fulfills our fantasy of the good life. Rather, it makes us better people, or high moral affirmation.

I really hate this fad on YouTube, where users who have over 10,000 subscribers, basically write their bio in a single sentence! ...Or write nothing at all! This is because they want to pretend they're normal, like us, or that they are humble to have such a large audience. A bio page is supposed to describe a mission and purpose towards your own art. And instead, we are getting this e-girl/narcissistic personality disorder, where you have YouTube bios like "subscribe to my channel bro," or "I make cool and artsy left-wing videos,” and the dreaded “I make political videos.” That’s it. Take a look at their sub count. It’s more than 10k. ...It does not make you pretentious if you explain yourself to the fullest on what you have to say. In fact, I’m always looking at the YouTube bios so I can find the perfect introduction on what user is about. Ignore the clickbaity videos they make.

About Don Z. Block: I told him to “rest in piss,” and now he’s acting like this angry, analytical boomer against me, writing, “prove to me you didn’t fail a decade ago!” And I’m like, “you are still a piece of shit.” ...Slander? No way.

These academic types have to learn German, French, and maybe Latin, just so they can claim a tenured spot up in Maine or somewhere in Iowa. The dissertation? Some old historical footnote, exploded to sound like it’s mainstream hype. Followed by a four-decade teaching career smacking on the far-right and celebrating feminism. It’s pretty pathetic.

Don’t correct me on my English. I will call you a faggot.

AxA

✕

I went to Unite The Right out of my own sanity. Clown World is academia and the students they raped.

✕

Communism will be cool, once they purge the degenerates and proclaim Logos as the true higher power.

✕

I am straight edge.

✕

It's complete bullshit that there is still a liberal or modernist dialogue throughout the internet, and that people who believe in such a thing and call me a "straw man" or a "young kid." They are wrong, because they're using rhetoric to actually call me names, and by calling them a faggot, or an idiot outright, you do something they couldn't do, by having the balls to make threats against them! That makes you more of a man than some ideologue interested in word games. Imagine adults over the internet pretending they are in some kind of game where everyone plays by the rules. ...Not me.

AxA

✕

"Slander," "hate speech," all of it is to agitate and get revenge on the enemy. It's justified because they did the same to us with politeness and snarky professionalism.

✕

My "skills" you ask? I'm 29. Can you hire me now? Or do I have to be 35 and reapply?

✕

Nepotism is a clear trait within capitalism.

✕

"Friends, Family, Freedom." The three "Fs" that an alt-left should stand for.

✕

If we did abolish "work," I guess everyone would be a gamer.

✕

Work is natural like how I look up videos on Pornhub.

Girls have to tell other girls they achieved the good life through pictures on Instagram. It's all on the men to provide them that future.

Donald Trump is one of the best things that happened to America since the 1960s. It's not that I love America or I am "right-wing," but because Trump gave out some needed Fascist medicine to a sick society full of degenerates and transhumanist suburbanites. Trump ended white people with a blow. I voted him twice because I wanted the normie class to suffer.

The professors got the jobs, and now they are the gatekeepers of these corrupt institutions, and they are now robbing us of money, only to give us an "F" in class, because of our own skills. These are bad professors.

Imagine money as a tangible thing. Imagine it getting in the way of human relationships.

Illegal Aryan, you fucking hypocrite. You speak Chinese and yet find white woman superior. Fucking racist pig. I drove you home and picked you up from Blue Bell! And now you are on Tinder looking to pick up Anita chicks. You perverted swine. You are a puzzle that does not make sense. Go fuck yourself!

Ted snorts coke as a "Jersey Goy" and deals some to Richard Spencer. I saw them both snorting it together back in 2017.

Shiro, I don't give a fuck if you are the leader of a fictional "Philadelphia Forum." You ran off to Florida and stole the coke you did with Mark. Yuck! And Greg Johnson thinks you are paternal?

Claus Brinker, you hipster racist faggot. You said you are in this because of "Boyd Rice." And here you are, getting prissy your real name is "Nathan." I already attacked you back in 2017. Moved on? You are a sissy democrat living in Washington D.C. You don't even what's good for you.

Lev smoked weed with Emily Youcis. I saw her smoke some with some crust punks outside a bar in Manhattan. Fucking hipster retards.

Imagine all the mentally and psychically retarded being oppressed. A retard is the child of a dysgenic family. Obviously the mom and dad were drug users or took poor care of their health. But imagine what a retard does everyday. A retard can do basic operations, stim, mewl like an animal, drool, and exist within middle class society. A retard is hated by corporate American and the rest of the normie class. It is quite ironic is that the high-functioning normie class does something peculiar once they are in their 20s. Normies celebrate life by becoming alcoholics, drug addicts, promiscuous sex addicts, tatted-up punk rockers, all while working that white-collar job that requires an expensive MBA. You must ask yourself if the true mentally retarded are those who pressed that actually retarded. Our society worships sex operations and queer culture. All while the mentally retarded live in blissful ignorance, or commonly oppressed by "the smart ones" who chase after profit. ...Who's the retard now?

Nueva Germania, a real colony out in Paraguay, lead by Bernhard Förster, who married Elisabeth Förster-Nietzsche. Förster was a loved figure in Germany. ...And some ignorant liberal is going to tell me that the man Friedrich Nietzsche called out Förster for being stupid? Are you fucking kidding me?? His sister married Förster! Let me remind you that Nietzsche attacked Wagner because he wasn't a pagan! The liberal is having a wet dream that the true Übermensch is some kind of race-denying, egalitarian, fair democratic centrist of sorts. You can't tell me Nietzsche DID NOT espouse far-right ideologies and ethics. Just take at what his sister did. "Nietzsche was so smart, he couldn't fall for any totalitarian belief against the individual and the intellect! Boohoo!" Get bent.

Once you find out about this dark truth with Nietzsche, every historical figure in European history was and will always be "white supremacist" and "racist." No revisionism can help you now. They will find out these little footnotes and cancel them. ...It's time to burn this bitch down!!

Fuck white people.

What they say about Germans mixing with Paraguayans:
“He insults paraguayans even though he is married to one.
Hypocrite.” When did he “insult” them? It’s called race, stupid. It’s a fact.

College professors like to pretend they are unbiased and centrist. That’s what the profession, “the skill,” is about.
Their true colors come out with the espouse neoliberal beliefs and a hatred towards racial difference, sexuality, work, and violence. Confronting about their liberal meandering, they will redirect it out of a semantics argument.

A true intellect does not respect privacy. The truth is public.

How many female college professors flirt with their kids outside the class? I have my own stories and successes as a twenty-something.

"Deconstruction" calls out the right for talking about race, because at home, they must say "nigger." Maybe the truth is, egalitarian liberals at the bar tend to say derogatory terms against blacks and treat women like sluts.

Where white men and white women hate each other, they divorce, and find older white men and women more compatible. Otherwise, the answer is outside the Eurocentric mind.

San Francisco tech elite talk big game of a happy, egalitarian society. On their spare time, they are hitting up their drug dealer on Signal.

After a one night stand, the woman writes, "you have to forget about me and move on." ...As if that was the gentlemen ethic to go about rape? Woman talk a lot, and say things that mean the opposite.

Imagine a “voluntary” society. Why would anyone volunteer?

I’m sexually attracted to the Asian feminist. The best part is getting her in bed and starting the life-lasting relationship. Once you get her in bed, the whole world platonism opens. Gabriele D’Annunzio understood this. It’s a challenge.

Women hurt themselves, and actually need the guidance of men.

As cartoonists, we draw women because we sexually desire them, and envision the perfect idol. So in a way, we are feminists for envisioning how a good woman should look and act.

Hark! The angel sings!

The end of the Asian girl? Was it a fad that lasted for four decades? There is this fear that the generation will change into a pro-asian movement, and less into a Eurasian one. As pro-asians, they will reap the benefits in a cuckolded, transhumanist, neoliberal state, all while trying to retain their identity. We might have to question this culture shock among deracinated white Americans, to finding the good life under multiculturalism. And under "multiculturalism," it was actually "biculturalism," because only one group was pursued, and the rest made food for gentrified neighborhoods. And like a supply and demand market, the demand is getting abundant, and the supply becomes limited. It is normal to be Eurasian in 2021, and the passing of the Gen-X and Millennial white generations, mean the passing of those fleeting Asiansexual desires. Ask if Gen-Z will retain such a futuristic, Eurasian desire? Or is it that our sexuality is becoming more cartoony, until we forget its a genealogy is rooted back to the Asian!

The Japanese woman has become utterly spoiled, having no children and sleeping around. ...Or that the good ones were all stolen by successful white men. What's left is a growing Korean movement that will replace the Japanese cougar moms. The Japanese sun is fading away.

My belief is that there will be a cohesive Eurasian identity politic, but in return, they will forget that their conception was based upon a materialistic desire. Sadly, they will adapt to the current pozz belief of the neoliberal state. The state will continue to destroy its people in favor of profit and social control. The Eurasian character will be based upon a cartoon desire of a Japanese American subculture, yet with genetics related to that of the Chinese, Koreans, Filipinos, Southeast Asians, and the rest of the Anglo-saxon, German-Irish whites in America.

They are anime characters, but still eat at McDonalds and listen to rap.

A Eurasian identity politic will create a mythology based around the Japanese-influenced vaporwave materialism of the past.

Sometimes I cry, because I'm not the athletic giga chad with a beautiful normie Asian girl. But here I am, struggling for such a beautiful future, and knowing that my act of paternalism will help everyone in the end.

Asiansexuality has been in development throughout our recent postmodern culture, which has its consequences. The issue at hand, is that if they are sincere with such a sexuality. The affluent and the cosmopolitan desire the Asian.

They say “fetish.” What does this imply? It implies people should be judged on the blank slate of their character. This itself is a Eurocentric statement. People make judgments around their sexuality, and sexuality is subcultural. If homosexuality is considered and celebrated as a mainstream norm, why not other sexualities? The neoliberal state is at war with desire. All desires must be some kind of “fetish.”

It's all right before your eyes!

What am I suppose to do? Lie and play the game? There's just something not right with that, and I found a loophole in societies hypocrisy. I can't live a normative life based on lies anymore. I've seen a lot of dysfunction and disorder.

I think sometimes, that maybe the lifeforce out there would have made me into a normal Chad with a pretty Asian wife, and I would be working in the steel mill and coming home to my Eurasian sons and daughters. All under an interesting, artistic, cosmopolitan life setting, living out my beautiful life in San Francisco or New York City. And I would finally be considered a normie! I would vote for Joe Biden, and telling myself "race does not matter!" All while the capitalist system comes crashing down!

If they see me as a creep or a weirdo, they will get into the AxA movement. They will see a punk rock queer, looking for acceptance that never was there. If the internal truth is that white men dating Asian women are creeps and unhealthy, then let it be. I'll embrace it.

I'm worse than a sodomite, or someone who mutilates their penis.

I tell my fellow Asiansexual men that we are all queer together. It works.

...The existence of being cucked or mogged everyday walking to class. I realized that I should have resisted, and insulted my English teachers and professors when I had the chance. Now that I'm a full adult , and I could do all of this without no regret, I leave the door open and challenging anyone that I may consent my money towards.

I am a firm believer of the "Asian kind" of nihilism. And that many people who had authoritative positions over me are actually under me. I've reached the form of enlightenment that makes me do more work than any other person.

...If only if I only knew what I knew a decade ago. It will be my 10th anniversary in a few weeks of attending higher academia. I have three pedigrees. A decade-old, non-stop summer semester experience. No breaks. ...But at what cost? It just feels like an extended jail, debt-free. I am waking up from that nightmare now.

Academia assumes you are an “adult” before you enter. Academia will never teach you a single word on the wisdom of seducing women, driving or taking a plane, accounting, diet or workout, and what clothes to wear. These basic traits help you become a better man.

I have a fantasy in my head, where I wish there was an undergraduate class, where the project, or the assigned project, is to have sex! And you partner up with someone to make sure that both do sex stuff together, and record it. Therefore, no one is an incel. This class should be state-mandatory. Everyone gets a sex partner. If I implement the sex classes, students will be more happier about the first time they had sex, and create a bond between their first sex partners and for future ones too. It's kind of like having a new sister or brother. The sex class is like a spiritual rite of passage. Again, imagine the term "sex partner" becoming normal. People will have good ones, people have bad ones, people have great ones, and people have traumatic ones. And then it's required to go to your sex partners funeral, to further establish this life-lasting bond. The point is to have a paternal system that intervenes with our sex lives. Sex should be a good experience. Sex should be the meaning of one's life. Sex is a beautiful romance.

Even those kids in the big cities, they are middle class kids "taking a risk" and creating a punk persona, where they do everything by themselves, or "D.I.Y." When in actuality, this is what you're supposed to learn at the age of 16, but no one is doing it anymore. Everyone is a sheltered idiot. And the punk persona is a late, blooming prospect of neoliberal values.

An ugly girl, that is 4 out of 10, can still go on the path of being a promiscuous slut. And she will have no remorse, thinking she is desired as a Brandy Talore 10 out of 10.

Already in the past decade of my time in academia, I can name five middle class kids in the Pennsylvania suburbs that have committed suicide, and three girls I know who make Pornhub videos. All of them belong to the decay of the white middle class.

Sex is just like reading or working out. You get better at it once you practice it. It will transform you into a better person. Sex should be the number one goal, next to your art, that should gear yourself towards the good life. Ejaculation, and using your body to exercise, and touch other humans, is to be intimate and sincere. Sex transform others to appreciate you and your art. The hardest part is finding a partner that will enjoy having sex with you and you having sex with her. She will forgive you for all the mistakes you have made, and you will reach a climatic stage of self-discovery and healing. Sex is revolutionary.

A man is daring for having sex with many different women, or men, of many different backgrounds. That is a form of intellectualism. It increases our platonism and love for the other.

It's ok to watch porn and to jerk off. It makes me a better man, and a connoisseur of desire. I appreciate the beauty of a woman and the beauty of romance. I am a true feminist.

I am aware porn is used as a tool for social control. But I only watch erotic film that is authentic, and makes us into better people. I know when to stop, and I know what is a fetish, and what is bad porn.

The key to having good sex, is having either both of you not knowing anything, or one side shows intense love and experience. Almost like a teacher. Always the woman has a fantasy of the man being the sex expert, and I've been in situations where it's always like that and I have to do everything. And the woman afterwards says, "it was the best sex I've ever had!" But in a guy's perspective, I really like it when the woman does everything. It's hard to come by that, and it's literally like a teacher, or a mom, showing right and wrong, and excusing any wrongs you may have made during sex.

We are now have an entire generation of people in their early 30s, having ZERO sex, and then pretending they are in some porn film the first time they do it! Constantly. the cliché where guys does nothing with their dick, or hold her head while going, "oh fuck, oh shit, fuck, Jesus, yes, oh my god!" It's so fake, and the behavior was learned from porn. Swearing is a boner killer for me, and nor do I ever swear during sex. I realize this is a mistake, and a form of toxic masculinity. Pornographic moves done by the middle-class in their private bedroom time is cringe and disgusting. No parties advance in platonism, and continue "sex as a transaction."

...I'm very quiet during sex, and say positive compliments as well. But I don't spew off random words every other second, or the nonsense or power dynamic cuss words. That's rape, or an objectifying dork trying to reach his own one-sided ejaculation.

One video I watched is a compilation of Japanese women pulling down a guy's pants, and seeing their dick for the first time. A lot of it is either staged or has this kind of Asian reaction of wonder, or appreciating a man's energy. Well, then you compare it to a white girl's dick reaction video. it's always followed with "Holy fuck! Your dick is so big!" Lots of swearing, and reassuring that the man has "a big dick" which sounds so fake. Complete nonsense. I just want to have an average dick.

The distortion of intimacy, and what sex SHOULD be, is very degrading, and should be further examined how it is affecting normative people and the soyboy. Like so-called metapolitics, porn trickles down into the middle-class as "normal experiences."

I would rather want to shed light that there are women that really DO care about a man's sexuality. During sex, a woman sometimes act if they are posers, sometimes they make mistakes, sometimes they don't know what they're doing, and sometimes they get nervous. And then you learn about how women have intimate desires and what they like during sex, and how strange that may be. Sex should be something like two students experimenting or a teacher making sure the student is relaxed.

Imagine the soyboy getting with his 4 out of 10 ugly nerdy girl, going home after a movie, and they have sex on the sofa, and he says all that slut cussing talk as well, because that's the only thing he knows how to initiate! All while she thinks it's normal as well! Obviously, you could call this performance rape and not real sexual desires being met together. This is the destruction of intimacy.

Privacy must be abolished. The truth will ring!

Sex should be a transcendental experience where both boundaries are broken down and where the experience feels like forever. Kind of like a religious ecstasy. It's how children are made!

White nationalism can only be retained by the super rich, not us. This means that high quality white women will be snatched up by the rich as soon as possible.

A perfect white nationalist society is in the towers of Williamsburg or in the apartment complex of Los Angeles.

Both white men and women are producing eugenically progressive children. However, that comes at the risk of both sides making 100K a year. A rich white family is always on the move, taking planes from the West and East Coast, and vacations in Europe. They say "I'm visiting my Italian parents in Italy" so they won't be called white. A cartoonist can have a place in Brooklyn, while working in Burbank during the spring.

White nationalism isn't so much a group of inbred families living in West Virginia, or middle class families working the night shift in Pennsylvania, but rather, the gated white communities who vote Biden and yell "black lives matter!"

The perfect "all white culture" can only be attained through riches.

We can see this declining white birth rate happening at a slow pace, and so much of the good life is about being rich. I can't meet a "Aryan woman in the wheat field" at my local 7-Eleven. Rich white families are too busy retaining what's left of white culture.

It is ironic because the rich class, predominantly a white nationalist class, advocates the destruction of the white middle classes, all while secretly, and eugenically, practicing to save the white race and its culture. You won't get the same "white nationalism" in Pennsylvania, then you would in Williamsburg. It's a bell curve. Nihilism is a greater value than racial preservation or tradition.

There are rich white people who are promiscuous and follow the R strategy. K and R selection is about reproduction, not so much about subculture. The standard of whiteness is very demanding, and the quality of white women is in decline because of their deracination. White racial nationalism cannot be practiced openly by the middle to lower classes. Whiteness is an identity, and an identity politic. It is only practiced by those who have the wealth and power to do so. And expect these cryptic white nationalists to advocate everything from black lives matter, taking a vax, voting Joe Biden, and continuing clown world, so as long as they have their gated-community practicing the interest and culture of European individualism and liberalism. With money, you belong to the nomadic, cosmopolitan class where taking a plane happens twice a week, owning multiple real estates, living on a trust fund, and having outlandish hobbies and experiences in Europe and in Japan. The highest quality white women are taken by rich white men immediately, and they do not serve as an erotic role model for anyone else who also identifies as white. One cannot practice the 14 words, or any form of liberal ethics in this society, without having first the money to do so. This isn't about ethics or some ideological advocacy. That's all just a ploy.

The wignat, who cares so much about all forms of white people, will be betrayed and backstabbed by the healthy and rich oligarchic white people with their Aryan-looking children.

Blood is just red sweat.

As much as we would like to say that the white birth rates are declining, this is due to the capitalist accelerationist machine and white peoples interest in the nomadic, liberal life, who mess up their own population stats. Only rich white people can afford white children. They want it to be that way so the standard and quality of whites are akin to Jews. Whites congregate in areas of commerce, while being spread out through fly-over country. It's hard to count them all as a single group.

So much of the non-white world points fingers at whites, while in return, all fingers point at the Jews. It's just that white people love being pointed at, compared to Jews, who hate it.

As long as whites believe in modernity, expect the suicide of the nation. Wise words from Émile Durkheim.

It's about class and money, and they don't want to realize that modernity, especially liberalism, sides white people naturally against one another as individuals. Even the semantic of being labeled as "white" is a bad conclusion. If they were French, Irish, or German, then they would have a cohesive semantic and identity politic worth fighting for.

It would be easy to fight for nationalism... that is, if white women weren't siding against white men, white people were friendly towards one another, and nothing is based upon one's own individual success.

Why is it that this decline only happens within white people? Is there something wrong with admixture European people? Is it genetic to be a liberal or an individual?

Or is liberalism recent social propaganda of the last century? And that we really need to claim a race, not an ideal or ideology? Remember the words of old Joe Biden, "Antifa is an ideal, not a terrorist group!"

Kim Il-sung has a beautiful smile.

The post left or leftoid class has been trying to co-op the success of the dark enlightenment. Such as the creation of "the dirtbag left," which is a sad attempt at making everyone semantically "left-wing," and o keep rich white people at the top. Instead of returning back to an old system, like a reactionary would, they cling onto the concept of "left" being "the good guys."

Race, Sex, Violence, Work. Will we ever be truthful about these things?

We don't own the means of production. Instead, we want a rent-economy that will flourish in luxurious, automative Communism. Again, how do we own the means of production here?

Today's synthetic left will be happy once robots run the pencil factory. Imagine finally not going to work, and staying at home, playing video games and jerking off to porn? Is this a good thing?

Imagine, If I went to an Irish high school or an Irish college, that enforced segregation politics, where Irish men and Irish women are separate from each other, learning Irish disciplines and studies. I'm pretty sure I would become an Irish nationalist. My sexuality would be interested in Irish women. I would have a job that would help the Irish people. I would be a violent person, in order to defend the Irish people, and I would consider myself apart of the Irish race and Irish ideology that is worth fighting for. I would discriminate and call non-Irish people inferior. I would take so much pride, and so much of my life's meaning, being Irish.

Now take my deracinated white identity. If you gave me an Irish girl in college, and was persuaded that Irish women like her must be naturally, almost innately attracted to me, I would believe that Irish women are for me, and that all other women are hostile towards me, and I should only spare my time to value Irish women.

Now give me a white girl. Now should I defend "the white race?"

And now let's say an Irish kid has a horrible upbringing in Dublin, and one day meets an exchange Chinese student.

She's beautiful and loves him. Now to negate all this negative upbringing from Ireland, he decides to become a teacher in Shanghai. In the future he has an Eurasian child. He must ask whether this Chinese-Eurasian experience is a new identity politic. And this sad notion brings up "queer culture" and the deracination of whiteness. The sad "I have no identity," is such a cop out.

The Eurasian child will side either becoming a new type of Chinese, or a cosmopolitan Irish-Eurasian. But would this third party happen if there is a Eurasian collective? And this Eurasian collective happens to be in the United States, and will it infiltrate the arts and tech?

The arrogance here I make example of, is about how our sexuality, and subculture we follow, is so connected to life, a desire, where we become close-minded, and make a friend and enemy distinction based upon things we consume in, and what we know about the world.

I always questioned people who liked white women in 2021, because for the last two decades, it was jammed inside their head that goth wojak girls, or wojak girls with blonde hair and flower shirts, are somehow sexually arousing.

Basic Lacan stuff if you ask me.

AxA

Sexuality has become a subculture.

And because subculture is a byproduct of capitalism, the popularity of subculture is determined by supply and demand cycles. Our mainstream sexuality is determined by market popularity.

I believe that all pornography in the future will become Asian, or at least Japanese-influenced. There's already race-realism in pornography. Meru the Succubus is taking the AxA world by storm!

In 2019, I saw Alain Badiou talk about love at NYU. I wanted to get a selfie with him. I spotted five WMAFs there. Young, in their twenties, and some with dyed hair.

I guarantee a majority of sensitive, young white men, masturbate to hentai over some gritty Bang Bros or Reality Kings videos. Any white nationalist who proclaims their exclusive love for white women, they have to face the fact that they also have a hentai collection of sorts. White women are NOT anime girls! If they go into denial and say this, they dig a bigger hole. Anime is a caricature of Japanese people, not white people. There is something sensitive and platonic about the nature of hentai. As Christian Lander once wrote, "more than half of white men will experience some kind of love for Asian women."

Asiansexuality is a Freudian, "yellow dandelion" paradox.

Because sexuality also follows subculture, expect the sensitive white man to find a woman with Asiatic traits and qualities. Meekness is sexual.

I am at war with "content" and the content semantics. There is no such thing as "content." Everything becomes a consumer product.

"POV," "ASMR," are words made for an exploitative society.

It's odd to think someone could be against racism, and yet, insult nonwhites with preferred racial slurs. Racism is a Eurocentric term. I have yet to see groups of nonwhites go against racism against whites.

...It's fun to be the bad guy. The evil antagonist to someone else's narrative.

Are we being transgressive for the fun of it? Or is it more serious? To prove some kind of point we are masculine just like those guys? It's all silly. Most kids into Power Electronics are immature. Why can't I just make transgressive art that shocks the soul and makes the reader question grander narratives?

KMFDM's Xtort album is the best industrial album of all time. It's has a "hatesville" sound of total revolution and chaos. The track "Dogma" left an impression on me, the same way it did on Eric Harris. My favorite album of all time. It's perfect start to finish. Better than Boyd Rice.

AxA

I'm a huge Atari Teenage Riot fan. The AxA energy is there.
I don't have to explain myself.

Based Korean once said, "Xiu Xiu? More like Jew Jew!!"

The ultimate hatred of the middle class and white America could be summed up by the events which happened on April 20th, 1999. By hearing some of those 911 calls, the killers sound frantic and upset. A beast ready to let its rage on the world. It's crazy to believe two decades ago, that this same anger boils up to the violent chaos that is happening in the streets right now over a man by the name of George Floyd.

As a public anarchist, I will work with the state in order to peacefully destroy the white middle class. I don't have to worry, as already, they are advocating BLM and mass protest across the nation.

Sue Klebold is the scum of the Earth. Rot in piss.

Why is there this period with girls, where they say to the men dating them, "I'm not ready to settle down!" "I need time to date." Only a few months later, they then find a boyfriend and say back, "I found the one! I want him!" The period of "sleeping around with random men" cannot be justified. A man, with good game, seduction, and bravo, will tame and keep a woman. A chaotic period of rape and mindless female sexual urges cannot be classified as a phase twenty-somethings do.

"I don't have a job Imfao fuck work 666."

It's the rejection that hurts me the most. I feel inadequate, insufficient, paranoid that If I don't play game, she will throw me away. I feel often there is no such thing as a rejection, but rather, a reason to hate on you because they project their own ideological biases.

She says, "one day, you will find the right one for you."
Meanwhile, I'm eating her out and fucking her brains out.

I am a gay man.

>be normal >be good >read books >learn history and logic >become democrat >feel shame >project it >hate middle class people >hate whiteness >become left >downplay communism as misunderstood >be a consumer >be sjw >see sjw subculture >trump wins >confused >reads pomo >creates a bigger mythology and fantasy >be breadtube >reads Fisher >becomes anarchist with communist influences >argue neoliberal capitalism is the enemy >get a vax >say BLM >shame normies who say BLM >move to NYC or Cali >teacher union >Verso and Zer0 book reader >be a dirtbag left >say right wing stuff but call it left >still hates nazies and nazbols >everything I don't like talks about race and biological difference >alt-right dies >tries to be "alt-right" to make friends >real post-alt-right calls him pussy >claims DPRK is the way to go >accelerationist >called out by hipster girl >just wants to grill >wants a utopia but it's still "left."

Girls, when they are single, pretend they are open-minded, because she's an "individual" with all possibilities she can't predict. That is, until white sharia happens.

One sees a nostalgia for a race and time. The critic points out the truth, "you actually like the subculture and not the race." A subculture is socially constructed and determined by consumer trends and market popularity. You see these two clash. Is it really the people or the subculture? "Retroculture" by William S. Lind, assumes white nationalism is just a subculture. So why should it be ethical to consume into a subculture dictated by a large, hostile system against its own people? The elites want that. And besides, who the fuck wants to dress up and LARP as a 1950's pin-up chick?

They say that it's better to go to a "non-profit private" school, when in fact, these very said no-named non-profit private schools leach on millennial desires, and in return, gets $50k per student, without remorse. It does not matter where you went to. It's rather the money being spent at such place, and if that place has a good name overall.

Someone hiring you will not be amazed that you went to "High Point College." They will likely reply back, "what was work like in Charlotte?" It's a different story if the resume had on Harvard or NYU, because of the superstition around the elite class that values said schools.

"Objectification" is the sole enemy against the neoliberal state, ironically. What are individuals if they are objectified? As if we are not already objectified under a capitalist system.

Imagine getting both your BA and MA from lame schools. How do you justify it in the market? By working in staff at another lame school, perpetuating lame school credentials and hierarchy. You are not a PhD, and you're not doing "research," and you are not even a teacher who cares about the students, but rather, you become a "professor" that checks-in for a biweekly paycheck. The rest is meaningless. At this point, you have the right to insult your professors openly and ridicule other students in class. The student is even more dumber than the professor for spending a large amount of money at this degree mill.

Nihilism sweeps into the middle class once they get their so-called graduate degree. With no future prospects to look forward to, or unless they double-down and go for a useless PhD, the existence of suburbia, the doldrums, is a prison. Money was taken from them, and these students are now supposed to be “adults” after 6 to 8 years of over-education. No social networks were made, nothing fantastic. Just “life is but a dream” boat rowing. Future “work is the front desk at CarMax.

If all the alumni from said school are all professional athletes, it tells you something about the education.

“The School for Life Skills.” As if we only going to college now because we were mentally retarded beforehand. A post-capitalist society promises a tangible asset called “work” afterwards, NOT the transcendental spirit of intellectualism!

Harriet Sugarcookie is cool. Just wish I got her on for a podcast.

"Should I dye my hair pink?" She dyes her hair pink just for you, no one else. She didn't dye her hair for the sake of subculture, or for the public, or herself, and really, it's a secret language that she just wanted a man's approval and she did it for you. Girls do things that might woo over a man. Female sexuality wants an exclusive lover, and they don't have the language to honestly express it that way. The question is about you.

Women naturally love it when they dress up for guys, for their man. Girls will often do these mind tricks, wearing gaudy jewelry, sexy clothes, hairpins, all of it a secret language so we can just seduce them, make love to them, and do drastic things to impress her desires. She will never be open about what she really wants.

Girl can't be open about what they want out of fear they will be called sluts or robots. They want to be a woman, and they want a man to woo them over. We are supposed to read their minds, but really, we don't like doing that. I honestly hate it. Get use to the fact that women will also bitch, complain, and cry, because you're not reading their mind on a good day. A guy is always happy, and just wants to focus on his hobbies. The solution is to isolate her, and she will get better the next day. Is it bipolar disorder? I'm not sure.

Let's cuddle and watch Right Now Kapow or Ok Ko! I'll make pumpkin pie!

We can sleep outside on the hammock. No protection.

Many hipster white chicks think irony is the best way to get men like us over. The myth is that "irony is a trait of intelligent, artsy men, who like to have a fun time." Irony is naturally playful, and most girls are looking for fun. What kind of fun? Fun that leads them into the direction of their untamed sexuality. We as men redirect them to become loyal girlfriends, not promiscuous sluts. She cannot decide one day to be faithful and "be ready." Most women become stay-at-home cat ladies without men.

Laughing is a good way to get her open, because girls are looking for fun. But girls also like mystery, and sometimes, they find it funny that the quiet Chad is even more mysterious and exciting. That's where both Knight and Provider game can excel to the bimbo type, who just wants to laugh. But rather, she is looking for something extremely serious. She's just not open about it, or afraid to confront that ultimate reality.

Because of how animalistic we are, violence can be untamed and irrational at times. During seduction, and when sex is initiated, sometimes violence comes out. There are women who enjoy this male violence. In return, this is actual bad for them. They are literally justifying rape though this "female masochism." We as men resort to violence to initiate sex when she cannot be rationally seduced over. Sometimes, violence, or physical demands without words, forces a tardy woman to accept a man's power, and to further accept what is good for her beyond her own choices. The disgusting part is that there is a class of rich women who enjoy this gentleman rape.

A cartoon, CalArts universe, where white nationalism and Christianity had no traits of individualism and liberalism, and everyone was on the same team. Men are provided with a wife at 20. Not out of social control or social trends dictated by a market, but by a natural order the world, akin to Japan or China.

We all need a little Warren T. Farrell and Anthony Ludovici at times.

Over The Garden Wall nationalism.

I am a radical miscegenationist.

This is about eugenics, not dysgenics. I don't have sex with physically and mentally retarded people.

Marriage in the 1950s was an egalitarian method of reproduction, so the incel could equally have a wife and kids. It represented a “fair society” where not just the rich, but the poor, could have a woman and fulfill his sexual desires, and at the same time, have kids. The man would get out his sexual energy sooner, and then focus on productive actions later in life. Everyone was happy, and the state did something right for once.

Christianity is the idyllic, high platonist ideology of the West, and of supreme moral and ethics. The problem is, most people who say their “Christian,” are not really Christian at all. Instead, they just do it for white nationalism clout or some in group identity politics. Whatever your view may be, we can learn more from Logos than of Christianity.

Christianity is not bourgeois, but the bourgeois took over Christianity as a vehicle for low-IQ, suburban nationalism.

And they covered up the sun, until the birds had flown away. And the fishes in the sea, had gone to sleep.

I trust the Italian gangster or a pornstar wearing a cross necklace than some DC Talk fanatic.

...No offense to DC Talk or Tooth and Nail records, but there is a stark difference between the person sacrificing his life to live as a monk, verse the actual sinner who knows right from wrong. The latter is more sincere.

You can see in the 1950s, even when they uplifted the incel and forced him to have a wife, kids, a house, and a dog, we still saw dysfunction through out it. That is to say, many men, who were not prepared to be dads, were spoiled with this culturally booming society. With not that much to do, they laid back, and watch their children become serial killers and queers. Genetically speaking, maybe uplifting the incel and giving him children just produces more incels.

Sometimes, it's not right for the incel to reproduce. It's like the man who has three kids, divorces each wife, and says they're gay. Those were the 1950s incels.

I like sports because they are games that contain violence in society, and where we express violence in a healthy way. Without sports, violence is repressed, and naturally riots and school shootings will emerge.

I would also further love to see open brothels at sports arenas. If the spectating men get aroused by the game, they can take their women, go near the brothels besides the bathrooms, and make love. Imagine the moaning and excitement from an orgy celebrating their team. Sport games contain both violence and sexuality in a progressive way. Now that's true nationalism.

Soccer is a tantalizing game for Americans, because we are denied soccer as a public sport all the time. The most basic human sport of all is standing up, running, kicking a ball, trash talking, and winning. It's monkey behavior, and it's natural. But how Americans yearn for such animal behavior in a society repressed of it. Race, Sexuality, Violence, and Work, all play out in soccer.

NASCAR is for the south. It's fun to be next to the cars as they wish the wind in your face, and you see this amazing spectacle of cars swishing and turning around, with the possibility someone could die in a crash and the cars get flipped over all at once. Like a roller coaster, we get anxious over this reality right in front of our eyes.

...So-called video game designers won't even dare to touch sports. If you call yourself a game designer, or study the history of games, study sports.

The thing is, I wish I was strong enough to enjoy being part of a game. Maybe I never found my right sport and wasn't trained at the right time in my upbringing. But maybe I could excel at ping-pong or tennis, and that would have turned me into a strong Chad. I would love to be a strong athlete, only the to retire and commit myself to be an adult film actor. After that, I would become a director. That sounds like the good life for sure. Richard Kern or Eon McKai, but better.

I have a huge board game collection. Games are an important part of my life, and I consider myself a Ludologist is the game design school and of thinking. I hate the Narratology School.

I am radical to a point where the "video" or "computer" even "screen" game must be an easy and convenient machine for two people, and not just a puzzle. Games must be unpredictable.

For about 60 years, computers and videos transformed the gaming environment, the game designer, and the game players. We must step away from the video, the computer, and back into reality, right in front of us. Exactly, what is "design," what is a "game," and what is "play?"

As all of humanity played games without video screens before 1960.

The only sex game I like if it's ejaculating and aiming on how far it goes. She can help.

Strip poker is just an icebreaker to either cuddle, have sex, or be nudist against normative society, hence to open up, like drinking beer. A naked body is an invitation for intimacy and arousal.

It's like, as a guy, you know sex is normal and beautiful. But then you put up a facade you can't text or say to her you want sex. You can only initiate sex in front of her, without words. Only body cues and mind reading. She can throw hints too, but you just have to see her ASAP and take it from there. Sex should be the biggest priority to keep a relationship stable, followed by trust and loyalty.

I'm the cool devil guy who basically is hated by everyone, and constantly I get with girls that fall out with me, and out of nowhere, I get with the hipster Filipino chick, and we start to flirt while my ex is driving the car.

I wouldn't even do game at that point if she's in your room. I would just sit down next to her, make out, and take it from there. No excuses. Never say "can we have sex?" like a little bitch. Do it, without words.

Omaha the Cat Dance is a beautiful work of art. True platonism. That's a comic I would want to make.

Eurasian culture is a clash between anime and the CalArts scene, but it's for us. It retains the tradition of the intimate, the platonic, and the hybrid between East vs. West.

Lawyer versus professor, what I'm really trying to say is that degrees of any kind are like a hobby, or certificates you buy with your said hobby money. And then how your said degree, like exactly like a red key getting into the red door. Those who settle with the PHD in English end up doing the most humiliating work of all, unless they get published in the academic journal or make "connections," or by luck, have something to say in the industry itself. I guess there was a huge middle class that just stayed in academia, got their PhD, because it promised right away security in finances, but nothing to the tradition and advancement of the English discipline. How come there are no more red doors anymore for said red keys?

I'm starting to hate anyone who has a PhD, and in return, works at a scam university just so they can get a paycheck to feed their three kids and the mortgage. That's really fucking pathetic and apart of the decline.

As of 2021, most PhDs have some kind of debt. It will all fall soon enough.

I love pooping in public places. And now in the forrest.

I saw Japanese Breakfast recently. The guitarist and singer kissed before it was over. Very high WMAF art.

The Japanese will get their Tembatsu for denying the love from white men.

White nationalism is cryptic-Asiansexuality.

...I just know I'm going to like the person if they're into Nouvelle Droite or has hatred for the neoliberal leftoid state. I approve of Strasserism.

Plato is good, ...it's just that you have an entire white middle class culture that treats him like Jesus. Just like the worship of Shakespeare. It's a form of social control. This is what modernists do. Modernism is the ideology of whiteness and what stuff-white-people-like. You believe in modernism, postmodernity will walk all over you. Egalitarianism, democracy, universalism, individualism, they all stem from modernism. We start to understand why deconstructionism happened.

If you want to be a fake affluent individual, worship the basic icons found in the closed-minded, class antagonist society of white America. To be a modernist is to be a centrist, all while worshipping neoliberal capitalism, irrationally. It wasn't until Mark Fisher realized this problem and tried to make the neoliberal class all self-classified as "left," in subculture and in sincerity. I still believe those who call themselves "left" are following a decade old trend of postmodernity semantic games, because they want to be like any other good white person, and not an evil genocidal maniac, which is the "right."

Imagine wasting all that time, writing 1000-word posts on Facebook, only then to never self-publish your written words, thinking you're above all that, when in actuality, you are just a lonely, nerdy incel, thinking someone else is going to make you famous. A critical theory echo chamber with an obnoxious subculture. These types never want to get up and self-publish.

"Writing as a forceful method of recording" pill.

Automated luxury communism requires white genocide in order for a new white generation to be born in the luxury seat, and as the older white generation and middle class seeking ideologues, die out from the machines. This ironically benefits admixture European people, where they can become born as a “second class” citizen of luxury, fulfilling the role of ancient kings and queens, without ever having to go through the painful and useless self harm of working. White genocide is advocated by the automated machine, and used by The Jetsons class to recreate a people who are born into a society made for them. Think of it as a eugenics program. The towers in the sky, looking down upon all the depleted resources below them, full of brown people and garbage.

Once automated luxury communism this is reached, you will have bubble “ethnostates” catered an automated capitalism, that has an empire in space, all while making us trapped into a nanny state. Believing we thought capitalism was over, it just left planet Earth, and gave us a functioning, fake communism. All the democratic socialist and synthetic left want this automated luxury communism created by capitalism. So let’s ask again, why is capitalism bad in the first place?

The first class, the higher class above the rest of those enjoying the automated society, will be made up of some strange, queer intellectual subcultures, which will be a greater problems upon the second. The second class is made up by Eurasians. Only these two class can exist within the future of admixture European people.

I need a private room, where I can bounce, scream, jog, and dance while I write standing up or sitting down.

When I read someone's obituary, it's always about this neutral tone of what "good" the person did for "society" and less about the evils he has done. Can we ever be remembered, be feared, and kick ass at the same time?

These printed words are but an echo of a struggling existence.

Bite me.

I see those Asian girls with tattoos dating artsy white guys. When I try and date them, I get rejected by these normies. I guess I can't be apart of their subculture they desire. However, I am the paternal figure that has given them a label and a purpose. AxA was alive before I coined it. My desires are still the same. I am still an Asiansexual. I will not give up in this pursuit. Those have it much easier for existing at the right time and space. I must suffer, and continue on with a united struggle. I only want that man and woman to be hyperaware of themselves, and to question the liberal world. Hau Ruck!

Jeff Plauche, Ansel Bourne, Soh Jaipil, The Brothers Quay, Jim Goad, and Alice Sebold make Norristown a wonderful, yet scary place.

Attack of The Giant Vulture on Nickelodeon brings back memories. I had a crush on that girl when I was 8. I looked the other way when I saw her. It was embarrassing. Once during a school assignment, I wrote, in poor chicken-scratch handwriting, why I was in love with her. I forgot what the teacher said.

The Primal Scream by Arthur Janov is a fun experiment. We are allowed to say what we are going to do, then actually doing it. It negates the actual action in favor of thoughts coming into reality. Make a Devo song, and sing "I'm going to shoot up the school!" "Anal sex! Anal sex! Anal sex!" It's ultimately funny as hell.

One time on Twitter, back in 2011, I wrote as a joke, I would shoot up the school because the place was so hellish. I had to go to court after that. This was helpful in the end, because now I have incel credibility, and that helps me get pussy on the weekend. It's a great pick up line about my teenager years. Extreme queer culture for sure.

Normies are fucking hilarious and deserve to be insulted by Frank Hassle and Smooth Sanchez.

Race-play comedians get millionaire dollar offers. Incels go to jail. ...Let's change that!

People will never understand intellectuals until they are read correctly.

I'm grateful that there's Odyssey. Both YouTube and the white nationalists were trying to delete and cancel me back in 2018.

The Philly alt-right and white nationalist scene was cursed as fuck. Tim was an antifa, Shiro fell for it, Brandon and Nathan were gay, and Patrick Le Brun brought his wife and twins to these meetings. Oh yeah, and Robert Matthews is an old boomer. Mike Enoch brought his girlfriend too. Everyone else had black sun tattoos and worked for Red Ice or Vdare. Yikes!

Tim groped me. I was sexually confused after that. Was he really an antifa playing a prank on a racist, evil genocidal gay person like me? Or did he really love me and gave me a love letter to escape within for a lovely one-on-one getaway adventure? Who knows.

Desire is outside the labels of “fetish” or an objectification. But keep in mind, we shame desire as a fetish. They say the white nationalist fetishize white people or white mythology. To them, this is a desire. We must also understand that a capitalist society, or a hyper industrialized society, will naturally objectify people, and so often the adult professional working world will objectify other human beings as assets to their own wealth. How come we do not question this behavior? This would be some kind of Marxist Psychology for sure. Often we think the person who has a fetish is an out-of-touch freak or some delusional maniac, when we really we have to get in touch with romantic desires, and what Freud calls “the yellow dandelion.” There is one so-called fetish party that reigns supreme in America now. They fly rainbow flags everywhere and often work white collar jobs. Guess who they are?

We bring in “queer” culture, or avant-garde-hate to remedy the hypocrisies of the neoliberal system.

Travis LeBlanc should shut his fucking mouth. Wignats, ex-druggies and “the white race,” is not in fashion anymore. But I think its cute LeBlanc still crawls around NYC looking for the latest in hipster racism and such to his own pathetic subcultural interests. Show your face faggot. Just because you share the same blog with Jim Goad doesn’t make you one. The gonzo “hippy fascism” is outdated. Embrace communism, dweeb.

“I would have gotten that book deal with Counter-Currents, if it wasn’t for Margot Metroland and those meddling kids!”

I’m starting to believe that the word Asiansexual is almost like “nazi,” which I like.

Whats the difference between Tracis LeBlanc and Micheal Bell? Both retarded wignats. Funny when Micheal Bell approached me at Time Square, he couldn’t believe i was a queer.

None of y'all Counter-Currents niggas ever approached me at The Dirtbag Left house near the Myrtle/Broadway station in Bushwick! I was there for quite sometime. I always pretended that I was Patrick Swayze in Ghost walking home. Maggie still lives down the block, and I should really knock on her door and give her free stuff.

Come to Moodring and see what's up.

We should start to question why the homosexual is the new normal, when a quiet nerd who likes a Chinese American girl is considered an incel loser. Obviously the homosexual is much more depraved. Just how far you take it, and what sexuality is normal? Asiansexuality is normal compared to homosexuality, zoophilia, and MAPs. However, are we all queer?

It's not fair there's something called an "Asian studies" degree, all while feeling guilty about being white, but taking pride in general Asian culture, with a secret desire to get with said Asian woman.

Why are Asiansexuals computer programmers, gamers, anime lovers, teachers, and good life-affirming men? The issue at hand is to take the Asiansexual out of his bugman prison and make him red-pilled to the point he's not a self-hating white person, and rather affirm his Eurasian futurism. That's my project. Take the yellow pill.

Bac Guai John's famous reply against Asian women who said he had yellow fever was, "I'm a gangster."

Gangsters, who take risks and who are the faces of evil, are not afraid of words. They know who they are, and go with it. Yellow fever? Clearly you don't understand the desires of what a gangster wants. Total Gangster Bolshevism.

All my critics have said I've been trying to legitimize yellow fever or some kind of Asian fetishism. They clearly do not understand that those words are semantics for a neoliberal society and further advocate the blank slate individual, who denies race, sexuality, and Lacanian desire.

It is my libertarian right to pursue the woman I desire. I'm a risk taker, because my identity politic is based around my sexuality, just like any normal person. And I prefer the company of a creative, intellectual, philosophical person in a culture that is authentic than in a deracinated one. The AxA movement is a reaction against society and a new straight-edge scene. It's a big "fuck you" to the neoliberal establishment. I'm 29, I made up my mind what I find sexually attractive, and I know what kind of woman to get, how to get her, and I know the type who will like me back. I know all the so-called women who will hate me for who I am. This is natural, and this is called identity politics.

Ask any open homosexual, they will say the same thing.

I am the Harvey Milk of my generation.

Ask any SWPL person, any white person, and ask if on Tinder, or anytime soon, they will desire to marry a black woman. The answer you will get is "maybe."

Give me the real thing.

The family unit is an important part of a functioning civilization. Without it, men among ruins will find the woman of an authentic society that will take them in instead. Ride the tiger and go against the state!

White people. You are going to marry some idyllic Urban Outfitters white girl you see on some indie rock record.

Men naturally seek authenticity. If it's not there, we move on.

A normal sexuality, post 2021, will be an Asiansexual one. I asked my opponents, "how can this be a fetish now?"

Nazis have naturally objectified women to be the breeders of an Aryan race. The new objectification, is this kind of East meets West bridge through anime and video games. Hentai, anime girls, they are idolized Aryan women for the AxA movement.

The alluring interest of a quiet, calm Asian girl, has become more attractive than a blue haired feminist. This becomes a moral choice.

A quiet and meek man desires general qualities of the woman that Asian women exclusively possess. To be in denial of the Asian woman's characteristics, is to be in denial about reality. More artistic and socially dominating forces will be done by white men and their Asian women counterparts.

Japanese breakfast, Mitski, all marching bands for this Eurasian Nazi future coming ahead of us. Like Leni Reifenstahl films about anime realism.

What movie gained four stars a few years ago and won lots of academy awards? ... Big Hero 6. A Eurasian glorification of a future where only whites and Asians exist with their Eurasian offsprings in San Francisco.

If the elite is celebrating this Eurasian futurism, we cannot play social-controlled games of calling each other fetishists anymore. This is the century for China.

Another name for this book is called "The Little Pink Book." Members of the AxA movement will cite these Aphorisms along with the page number as traditional wisdom. This is correct thought.

I love black dick.

Asian girls who suck black dick are brave and powerful.
They are the true Asian feminists.

Asian feminism benefits the AxA movement and the Eurasian futurism as a whole. We should only advocate them.

AxA

✕

I love Asian dick.

✕

A White Male-Asian Male couple is powerful for the Axa Movement. A real Eurasian homonationalism.

✕

I love white dick. She loves white dick.

✕

Many white people in the past two decades assimilated as whites acting as Japanese. This is full-fledged Asian Aryanism. Maxwell Powers, Patrick Harlan, Peter Barakan, Robert Campbell, etc. My anger is that I could never fully assimilate into a Japanese. So I take revenge on the society that has oppressed me.

✕

The Eurasian Future? Watch NHK World TV.

✕

I'm sincere, and that's why people fear me.

AxA

✕

Monica Zheng sucks dick on Craigslist.

✕

The same energy could be taken from Korn's "Shoots and Ladders."

✕

There is a boiling point where it's obviously out in the open, when you see gamer subcultures or anime subcultures, all having Asian girlfriends.

✕

I'm unapologetic about my desires.

✕

Forget what Keith Woods says. "Metamodernism" is a cult.

✕

When a man meets a woman, the first thing he has to do, in order for her to open up for him, is to have sex with her. ASAP.

Dating, sex, adventure, dancing, music, cartoons, technology, games, and intimacy makes me happy.

I always open up with a first date going somewhere cool, and then having crazy ass sex later.

The key is to let everyone assume you've done those expert moves already and looking for something more without saying anything. Let women already assume you're a sex maniac or expert, but in reality, you are not.

Once penetration happens, and after it through intimacy and pillow talk, you reveal your true self and use the incubus complex to woo her over. That is to say, "you are the only one for me." Women go crazy over that.

They are assuming wild assumptions on you and you are not those things. You are just leading them on, so you can tame them and make them your loyal girlfriend.

It's better to be a "sex expert" when you know it is easy to execute the action on a brand new woman. The point is to tame her, not use her. For her, it might be overwhelming and completely new, and that's both a good and a bad thing. Like a teacher to his student, make sure she's safe and comfortable with the sex. I've seen the situation where I was the student in front of a teacher, and now I am teacher to a student. It is great when the opposite sex is speaking of dreamy romance stories about you and how she wants you, like us guys, we were so desperate for girls back in high school, and now the tables have turned.

I don't claim to be a "sex expert." I am someone who enjoys sex and comfortable in either level. Sex is sex, and everyone has a different performances. Some people are extremely fake with performance, some people don't believe in performance, and some people are insecure or pretentious about it. Sex should be a transcendental and intimate experience that is exclusively held between those two people. I don't believe in skill level. I believe that it must be against "assisted masturbation," and rather sex becomes a whole new level of love and intimacy.

Sometimes sex feels like a workout, and I'm actually lifting weights and sweating then actually enjoying the arousal and climax. I'm okay with that. And then it turns out she loved it, and I didn't feel that much through it. But it doesn't matter, because it was work to increase our intimacy, love, and relationship. Men don't overthink these things. They just do it.

There was a time I thought it was cool not to use a condom. Sometimes I'll risk it. But of course, I'll be shooting outside.

If the woman told me she had the best sex in her entire life because of me, then I must have did something right. I don't care if I enjoyed the sex or not. What I did was a morally-affirming, good act. Actually the best sex I've had was being totally in control, but not in a perverted or twisting sadistic kind of way, but like a caring paternal teacher to its student while watching her happiness as we soul-bind together. Our sperm and egg together will create a new human that is a mix between us.

Another cool part of sex is how we can break out of the sexual arousal and realize we are the same, but naked now. Being naked represents this full honesty and sincerity without any hidden lies, and we go to this primal state that we are both caring animals, and that the stars are aligned, and mother nature has chosen us to hypothetically reproduce with one another. And that means we were meant to be. Irony can break out in sex, and that's fine. During sex, you learn about your partner's desires, and you learn about what makes her happy, or things she wouldn't previously tell you.

I'm very critical of this kind of fake pretentious sex going around, where normies learn all their sex moves from porn films. It's really cringe and embarrassing. If a woman cries, "Oh God! Yes! God! Jesus," I'm not so sure if she's aware that she is worshipping an existing God, while her atheistic punk rock ideology tells her not to do so. This is kind of like the mind pausing with "ummmmm," when really we are trying to think of the word. You see the same insecurities happening during so-called sex.

It's okay to make these early mistakes early on, but girls pick up on this bad sex and call it rape.

I never swear during sex nor do I say a word. If I do say something, it's likely "I love you," "you are so beautiful" her name, and other small desires.

Sex is not assisted masturbation. Two naked bodies rubbing together don't constitute it either.

Sometimes, guys just want to shoot, and we politely ask our girls if they can jerk us off. Sometimes a girl just wants to be penetrated, and we don't feel like it. We are not always in the mood for sex.

Sex is initiated by the mind, and not through the English language. Or should I say, it's initiated by the body and overwhelming social cues. If you don't have anything to say, just say, "let me do something." What is that something? It's vague on purpose.

But we know what it is.

The act of initiating sex, and during sex, should have no words. Prior before sex, it's all word games.

I'm trying to advocate a platonic lifestyle where sex is worshiped again, not in a pornographic way, but a loving, tender way where two bodies unite. Individualism cripples this union.

...While I like the comic art of Bill Watterson, he still upholds modernist beliefs with regards to capitalism, and I wish he would have went on the route of becoming a full-fledged Marxist. There is an entire boomer generation who has taken his art away from him, and applied meaning to Calvin and Hobbes. I personally think he's just sick of doing it. I do believe that Watterson is some kind of Eurocentric modernist who lives in the past. Reading his interviews and his careful biography, Watterson comes off as an upper middle class midwesterner who got lucky getting the comic job, but was ultimately let down by it. If you read into his beliefs, they are very libertarian and pro-capitalist. His view on art is modernist and outdated. Watterson is almost fighting an uphill battle against the Marxist, or at least ignorant how technology accelerates. In other words, I am doubting Watterson's education. It speaks for itself when Watterson does not make a public appearance in over two decades.

To this day, he is living a cushy, bourgeois lifestyle in Ohio.

So, you think you would respect Watterson for being a Ted K. anti-socialite, when in actuality, he's just some kind of old Boomer with outdated modernist ideology.

I don't want to hear his love for "sunday comics as high art" anymore.

It's okay to mock elders and older people because they could actually be no different than a mentally retarded man. And now we can look at their previous mistakes, and criticize their personality behaviors and disorders. So if I hear another myth that Bill Watterson is "fighting against the system," I would reply back by writing that "Watterson is a bourgeois escapist and snob that is incompatible to work with."

Why is that upper middle class hentai nerds and gamers go to Japan, while Seoul or Hong Kong seem like better choices for the Eurasian? This "weeb" subculture is a proxy for a Japanese-White Übermensch. Subculture deludes our minds.

By being too open that one wants to be Chinese, Japanese, Korean, or any assimilated desire, ...white society rebukes these white traitors by calling them racist, or worse, the very Asian groups they admire outcast them as colonizers.

In this post-capitalist society, the Asian studies degree further blurs the line between declining capitalism and liberalism, all while the Asian countries will slam the door when the assimilates try to come in for help.

Instead of trying to assimilate into a new race, the best thing to do is get an Asian wife, Even that is becoming an identity politic today, which I support and advocate.

Neoliberalism assumes whatever knowledge you learn in academia. or skills you pick up, you must apply them in this non-meritocratic society, where the anarchy of production happened around the 1960s. No one in the states is hiring anyone who speaks Japanese. Why? It's not in demand. Nor such a niche market can give out a profit margin equal to a billionaires salary. Liberalism is cancer because it assumes "we are free" in a society that makes it that way.

Why bother wasting money and time in a commercial institution that does not mark us with any legitimate meritocratic value? A declining society is marked by this great nihilism, where we are de-valued, and our experience is downplayed, assuming that everyone is on equal footing. The only difference is our actual age. As Erik Erikson has said, "the old people will be given the best jobs, and the young people will suffer through a hedonistic nihilism." I guess that dream job isn't open until you are 35.

Asian studies majors? Conclusion: marry Asian. Work with Asians.

Those who already did Asian studies and then back out of the yellow pill, often marry a white girl, who is a weeb, and thus creates "weeb nationalism." White families acting has Japanese cartoons.

Weeb nationalism, as I wrote before, is where deracinated white people will find an authentic identity through a fake American approved Japanese culture. They become the characters to an anime nobody is watching. White society could not produce this romance. This is the Freudian nature the Asian studies majors, to only pursuit the aesthetics, but to keep the white, middle class alive.

The true nature of the Asian studies major, is some kind of hidden Asiansexuality and assimilation to the Eurasian man, all showcased through NHK World TV.

Japanese society loves it where their culture and media dominates the world, all while they remain in their gated community. The white followers try to get in and assimilate to so-called Japanese behavior. Only then to get the boot back to their home country. Either get a Japanese girl pregnant, or submit yourself to Japanese-Eurasian nationalism.

Once the Dogman revolution is complete, all technology beyond appx 1970 will be banned, except for military technology used to usurp the usurpers. Inshallah.

Dogmanism is to Black Aryanism as Wahhabism is to salafism, more or less.

It should be clear that Dogmanism is a terror campaign based on eschatological principles, eager to lure in FBI in order to convert them and utilize their weapons, mind control tech, etc.

Dogmanism bears reference to the Prophet's own relationship with dogs, which is a crystallization of the adulteration of his divine vision writ large.

AxA

✕

There's a word these liberals recently made up. It's called "fetish." To negate it, the positive is called a "type" or "preference." No questions asked.

✕

I could just accelerate and just pretend today that "the Eurasian Society is here," and I do that through AxA. However, you still need to push the cowards out of the blue pill and into the yellow pill. That's when things become all too real.

✕

Fuck Nitson Hermon.

✕

The dead body on the front cover is Ngô Đình Diệm.

Hi Francis, I'm sorry I didn't respond in so long. How are you?

Hey!! I'm good! I'm at my parents place. I just had a 1 on 1 job meeting at SVA. I'm looking for work, also planning to release a book of poetry. I was wondering what you were up too! Is everything ok? Are you working? Family ok? New place is great?

I'm still looking for work, but also working on long passions projects to express myself as an artist. I hope you are crafting up something cool too. Are you still Yelp blogging?

I'm good. Still looking for steady work too but keeping busy. Glad to hear about the passion projects!

We should call each other and catch up.

I'll let you know when I have time. And I'm occasionally Yelp blogging lol. Good night

It's not like I'm getting paid for it lol. I was just reviewing restaurants when bored

It's an art. I believe in you! You are amazing!

Hmm what is that? By the way Francis I should just clarify I'm okay with a phone call or maybe hanging out but I have a boyfriend.

I just want to say I tried to be with you, and I enjoyed being with you. But I remember at the day we went to the Zoo, I said I love you at the end, and you brushed it off. And you always ignored it. Even when we walk together, I try and make something out of it, and I can't read your mind. And you told me multiple times you are still looking. And I guess you found someone now.

Even in December, I wanted to hang with you, but you just looked so bored and sad. I'm sorry.

So I saw someone else, and that didn't work out, but I always came back to you. And I know that wasn't going to work out. And then I went to SF, and it was scary and new, but I really don't want to live there. I came back to PA, got pissed being there, went back to SF, and now I'm back here. I thought you just don't want to see me again.

I'm sorry about all the little mistakes that pissed you off, but I mean well. I'm sorry I wasn't there when I had no place in Brooklyn around Jan. And now I'm looking for work, and it's hard. I know I told you about Maggie Lee and my trauma about her in 2019, and it's the same burning feeling I have with you. Because I mean so we'll, but we have our quirks, and I'm sorry I couldn't be there when you wanted me to be.

I want to tell you everything, but you are always busy or late with your texting. That's just you. I understand. I tried to help you with your parents situation and all that. I know you go through alot and you worry. I don't have the answers.

And now post Covid is here and things feel pretty normal, and you are out and about having fun. You don't need me. I'm not as fun anymore. I don't know what I could do to make you happy. We always hang around town or go somewhere. I liked when we went to Staten Island together. That was fun. I wish you were more interested in me. Maybe you are. I'm sorry if I was too brash in my humor too.

I don't know how I can be a friend now. Already somebody has told me to "forget about me." Like that's going to happen? Why would I want that? I don't like playing games or keeping score how I failed someone. I just want to be me and be myself. I tried that with you, but I don't understand. It's hard to have the time to hang out with you, and yet you still call. I like that. And I'm willing to talk or hang. I'm not ignoring you or anything.

I want to open about everything now.

I made you cry last time Francis. That wasn't very kind was it! And I do need to make clear that we can only be friends.

Francis you didn't fail me. I guess we see relationships differently - it's not so uncommon for me to stay friends with people we dated as long as we parted on good terms. Perhaps I shouldn't have reached out. I wanted to make sure you were ok. I felt bad for how I left things. I just don't think we're a match as boyfriend/girlfriend. I'm so sorry. If you want to talk maybe we can try later today.

ok.

And the situation's over
It don't lie
And it makes you wonder too hard
Who'd be right

Come with me to see one last thing
I've got time
And I want to show you something
You might like

I can feel it now
Oh the place I pray you see
Something lost is found
Leaves our souls forever free

Everything we really wanted
Enters clear
Take a look around
Go walking
See what's here

Stay inside my dream until our
Time wears thin
Walk out on this island with me
The turn in

Can you feel it now?
Oh the place I pray you see
Something lost is found
Leaves our souls forever free

...Can you feel it now?
Oh the place I pray you see
Something lost is found
Leaves our souls forever free

- Reagan Jones.

xx xx xx xx xx xx xx

Francis Forever was born in Philadelphia.

He has his graduate degree from School of Visual Arts.

He also has a YouTube channel and a bunch of internet stuff online since 2006.

He makes music too. And videos.

This is his eighth publication.

